Strike at St. Lambert
Brought to an End Today

BRUSSELS, April 22.—The general strike of Belgian workmen for manhood suffrage, which started today, 4 p.m., has been brought to a conclusion favorable to the workmen,
nearly half a million of whom laid
down their tools to enforce their demand for equal suffrage.

The leaders of the socialist trades unions and their followers have gained
their first point, which was to make
the government take into consideration
a change in the Belgian parliamentary
franchise hitherto to their disadvantage at the polls, owing to its system
of plural votes for the wealthier and more highly educated classes.

At the last returns 935,070 men possessed one vote, 355,556 two votes and 505,553 three votes, so that the single votes were always overruled.

This is the first occasion on record
in which a political strike has resulted in victory for the strikers, and the whole movement has been notable for
the energy and determination displayed
and for the excellent control shown by
the men, who have entirely refrained
from violence. They have not yet obtained their full demand but the socialist leaders expressed their claims with the consideration of the franchise being made equal for all.

When the chamber of deputies met this afternoon there was a tense feeling of expectancy. The conciliatory motion of P. Masson, the liberal leader, was taken up immediately.

Deputy Liebaert, a clerical, proposed an additional clause reading: "The chamber disapproves and condemns the general strike."

Premier De Broqueville accepted the motion as amended and asked the other members of his party not to suggest any changes.

The socialist leader, Emile Van-develde, said today: "The deputies of the left support M. Masson's motion for the amendment. It remains for us to con-vocate a socialist congress, which alone has the power to decide whether the strike shall end or not; we have the conviction that the adoption of the motion would be a step in advance."

The first part of the motion was then adopted unanimously by the chamber.

STRIKE AT ST. LAMBERT WAS BROUGHT TO AN END BY RE-TURN OF ALL WORKERS

ST. LAMBERT, Belgium, April 22.—
The strike was brought to an end today by the return of all the workers to the glass-factories, which are the most important in Belgium.

STATION WERE FIRED AT FIVE TIMES

BRAS-LE-COMTE, Belgium, April 22.— Soldiers guarding a railroad bridge near here were fired at five times from a long range during the night but none of them was hit. It is not known whether the outrage was committed by strikers or other persons.

OFFICIAL DENIAL OF DISTORTED REPORTS PUBLISHED IN ENGLAND

ANTWERP, Belgium, April 22.—The governor of the province of Antwerp said today that the post had been injured more by exaggerations of the effect of the strike published abroad than by the strike itself. He requested the British consul general to issue an official denial of the distorted reports published in England.

LIQUOR LICENSES GRANTED TODAY

License Commissioners Granted
62 First Class Licenses at Meeting This Morning

The license commissioners met at their rooms at the police station on Market street this morning at 10 o'clock and spent two hours in strenuous session over the problem of granting the liquor licenses for the ensuing year. All three members of the board, John J. Mullany, Charles H. Hanson and Thomas P. Boulger, were in attendance at the meeting and
although the business was transacted
without any unnecessary delays, the list of first class licenses was all that the board could agree upon during the forenoon. After granting 62 first class licenses the board adjourned its meeting until 2:30.

There were 109 applicants in all classes and only 106 can be granted.
Last year there were 63 first class licenses granted. This year only 62 are granted, the one dropped being that of H. F. Murphy & Co., 329 Broadway.

First Class Common Victuallers

The list of first class or common victuallers' license is as follows:

THE BODY WAS IDENTIFIED
As That of Ann McTier-nan of Third Street.

The body of the woman, which was found in the Merrimack river Sunday afternoon, was identified last night at Undertakers J. P. O'Donnell and Sons rooms, as that of Ann McTier-nan of 174 Third street, this city.
Death was due to drowning, but how the woman got into the river is a mystery. It is understood that she had no relatives in this city.

REV. DENIS A. O'BRIEN

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Denis O'Brien, of Centralville, Ordained to Rome—Will Return Home Early in July

Rev. Denis Augustine O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denis O'Brien of Central-ville, and who has been studying at the American college, Rome, since 1905, was on Sunday, April 20th, ordained to the sacred priesthood by the Latin patriarch of Constantinople in the church of St. Apollinare, Rome. The young cleric on the following day, Apr.
21st, celebrated his first mass in the cathedral of St. Clement, the titular church in Rome of His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell. Fr. O'Brien will remain in Rome until the latter part of June, preparing for the Propaganda university examinations, returning to America the early part of July. Fr.
O'Brien will sing high mass in St. Michael's church on July 6th.

Will Depress Tracks

The Middlesex street crossing is one of the very important matters in connection with the general scheme and it is understood that this part of the proposition has presented more or less of an engineering problem. The intention is to straighten the route from the Gorham street bridge to near Wilder street, thus cutting off the long curve that crosses Middlesex street at the depot, crosses the canal a little farther east, and again re-crosses the canal above School street. The first advantage to be derived from the new scheme will be the elimination of the grade crossing at Dutton street and also that there are no more crossings interfering with daily traffic. At least that seems to be the opinion of the engineers.

It is not in this city alone that the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. is planning for additional tracks. The company's general campaign for improvements embraces additional tracks and the company plans to do all its work without

At the opening of the civil session of the superior court in the local court house this morning, the jury returned a verdict in the case of Bennett vs. City of Lowell, the finding being one of $83.25 for the plaintiff. The case was placed on trial on last Thursday and the suit was brought by the plaintiff to recover alleged land damages caused by the abolition of the School street grade crossing. Attorney Howard appeared for

This morning the case of Hatch vs.
Bartlett, an action of contract to recover $1000, was taken up again and the jury was dismissed from the court room during testimony on points of law. Have C. Hill, administrator with the will annexed was one of the chief witnesses in today's hearing. In the time of the noon recess, the case had not been given to the jury.

BIG CHANGES ARE PLANNED

By New York, New Haven & Hartford
in This City

Scheme as Described in The Sun Will Be Carried Out

Four Tracks Through the City and New Depot

Believed That Work
Will Be Begun
Very Soon

It was stated today that the New York, New Haven & Hartford Co. had about completed its plans for a great four track system through Lowell and a magnificent new depot at Washington park.

Railroad engineers have been taking surveys and soundings along the lines of track between Dutton street and Washington park and for the last three days an engineer from the office of the Boston & Maine at Boston, has been working in the city engineer's office at city hall, tracing all of the property located along the line of the railroad from Gorham street to Wilder street.

As has already been stated exclusively in The Sun, it is the aim of the company to install a great four track and following a northwesterly direction
through Lowell and the four-track system has been made necessary because of the great increase in freight business from the north.

The four tracks will be run in an almost straight route that will diverge from the present line so as to avoid all canal bridges and dangerous curves and to eliminate grade crossings.

So far as can be ascertained, and as has already been stated in The Sun, the plan is to have the new tracks diverge from the present track near Hale street, taking a northwesterly direction and following almost a direct line to Washington park, crossing Middlesex street and continuing past the Doherty foundry, striking the old tracks again in the vicinity of Peavey's foundry.

A man who is known to have inside information in the matter said today,
when seen by a reporter for The Sun:
"I do not know just exactly what the railroads intend to do in this city, but I do know that they will have to increase their facilities. I read the plan for the four track system as described in The Sun some time ago, but I am not in a position to say that it is just the plan the railroad has in mind. I am free to confess that I thought the plan
a very good one and I am of the opinion that The Sun hit the nail pretty fairly on the head."

The New York, New Haven & Hartford knows that it must build for the future in this city. There is more freight coming to Lowell and more passing through than ever before in the history of the city. There is nothing strange about this and nothing more than one would expect. A generous portion of the great business from the north and west is seeking a channel through Lowell and the business is going to increase.

The railroad here in Lowell, with its present tracks, cannot handle the business, and to show how the business has grown let me tell you that thirty years ago there was but one freight train a day on the Stony Brook branch and today there are ninety trains each way. It is great an increase has shown itself in this, rather obscure branch, how great must have been the increase on the main lines.

Haying Up Real Estate

"There is a man who was connected with the Boston & Maine's real estate department, Boston office, who seems to have considerable faith in the four track and new depot proposition. I understand that he is buying considerable land along the line of proposed operations. It is barely possible that he is buying for the company rather than for himself, but as I understand it, he is not connected with the company at the present time."

disturbing the present condition of affairs.

The company's work in this city will mean the abandonment of the present depot and it will probably be made to force a change in the freight shed extending from Middlesex street to Maple street and in width from the present wall of the American Express office on Thorndike street straight through under Chalmers street, taking the George bridge and extending on back of the jail to connect with the freight shed on Maple street.

Break Ground Soon

One very enthusiastic believer of the railroad's intention to do all that was contained in The Sun's article, and more, too, said today that he would
miss his guess if work was not begun
within a few weeks. "I have had my ear to the ground," he said, "and I know there's something doing."

The whole scheme seems to be so vastly superior to the present arrangement that Lowell should welcome the change with wide open arms. It is to be hoped that property owners, as has already been suggested in these columns, will not place any obstacles in the way of the railroad acquiring the land necessary to carry out these improvements as they will undoubtedly offer vastly better facilities for doing business than could be expected under the present system.

GENERAL CLEAN UP THROUGHOUT CITY

Tour of the Worst Streets Shows
Great Improvement—Gangs
of Men at Work

Last week Mayor James E. O'Donnell
issued a proclamation asking the residents of this city to cooperate with
the employees of the street department
and board of health in a general cleaning of the city, the said cleaning-up
to take place this week. The request of the mayor was received very favorably in every part of the city, and already there have been great transformations in certain districts.

By the end of the week if there is no drop in the enthusiasm now prevailing, the city of Lowell will be spotless,
and it is expected that it will remain
in such a condition, for people are beginning to realize that filth in a yard or cellar is not very beneficial for those residing in the vicinity. This general
cleaning method was started last year
at the request of the Lowell board of trade and indeed the result was very satisfying. However some people have forgotten all about cleanliness since
and with the exception of certain districts as much filth, garbage and refuse were collected in back yards, alleyways and cellars as was taken out last spring.

The writer this morning made a tour of inspection of the Market street district and Little Canada. In the former place the employees of the board of health were around yesterday while in the latter they are today collecting whatever is left on the sidewalks for them.

Despite the fact that Market street was swept clean by the "brigade" of the street department yesterday, it is again in a bad condition in some places, especially in the vicinity of certain stores, where old papers and other material is being thrown around. That end of the street from Suffolk to Salem, however, is kept clean. A hidden lane is today as clean as a whistle and the change in the appearance of the thoroughfare is very noticeable.

Jefferson, Dummer and Lewis streets are also in very good condition. However in the vicinity of these streets
there is a number of alleys and backyards which are in need of a general cleaning. In some places there is still a lot of filth, including refuse from the table, ashes and tin cans and it would be well for the police to interfere and force the owners to do some scrapping and removing.

The residents in the yard next to Copley's store in Dummer street, are to be complimented, however, over the condition of this place which is without a blemish. The yard was given a thorough cleaning yesterday and it is safe to say that it will be kept in its present condition. Another yard which underwent a great change is that next to 98 Lewis street.

The writer while in the Jefferson street district visited a place where three men have been constantly at work for the past two days in cleaning up cellars and yards, and they will probably be on the job for the next three days. In one cellar one of the men stated three cart loads were taken out, while in another place the ashes, cans and other material good only for deposit on dumps, reach almost to the first floor. The foreman on the job informed the writer that the place was given a thorough cleaning last spring, but conditions are as bad now as they were at that time, if not worse, being proud of his work, he brought the reporter to a rear yard, where he said his men did a great job, and where the place, he said, was thoroughly clean. The yard was certainly clean, but in the corner near a window there was a fresh pile of garbage, which had been thrown there. This morning by some occupants of the building, "Some people are not reasonable," said the foreman, "and in order to keep the premises clean, it would be necessary to keep a couple of men on the job following with a cart and shovel."

There is other property in that district which would certainly stand a little cleaning, but the landlord does not seem to be in a hurry to do it. The entire house is unoccupied, and the cellar and yard material are very filthy.

Another place where a great change is noticeable is in the alleyway extending from Merrimack to Market, opposite the fire station at the corner of Race and Merrimack streets. This place a few weeks ago was thick with filth, but now all signs of refuse or garbage have disappeared. Fenwick

DETROIT, April 22.—A telegram from Ty Cobb, stating that he would reach Detroit Thursday morning, was received today by one of Cobb's associates. It is understood here that a conference between Cobb and President Nahin will take place shortly after Cobb's arrival at which a satisfactory agreement will be reached and Cobb will sign his 1913 contract.

One very enthusiastic believer of the
railroad's intention to do all that was

within a few weeks. "I have had my

Four Members of Municipal Council Voted For Saunders

The members of the municipal council held a meeting this afternoon. All were present and Mayor O'Donnell provided. The meeting was called at 2 o'clock and the principal matter to come before the council was the election of a fire chief to succeed Edward

S. Hosmer, who was retired on pension.

District Chief Edward F. Saunders was chosen as Chief Hosmer's successor, receiving four votes, Commissioner Brown voting for Capt. Joseph D'Amond of Truck 4.

It was also voted to place Chief
Hosmer on the pension list beginning
May 1, with an annuity of $1200, the vote being unanimous. The pay of the retiring chief will hereafter come out of the regular appropriation of the fire department.

Previous to the election Commissioner Cummings announced that Capt.
Crowley, who had been mentioned as
a candidate for the position of chief,
was out of the contest, while Commissioner Barrett declared that District Chief Sullivan had also withdrawn from the fight.

Fire Chief's Salary

Alderman Barrett moved that the fire
chief's salary be reduced from $2000
to $2000, but Mayor O'Donnell called attention to the fact that the ordinance
fixing the salary could not be changed
to become operative within one year.

It seemed to be the general impression prevailing at city hall that Capt.
Crowley would be appointed to succeed
District Chief Saunders.

Monthly Bulletin of State Board of Health Says So—Few Deaths From Contagious Diseases

In the monthly bulletin of the state board of health for February, there is included an article on infectious diseases. In stating the importance of undetected typhoid carriers, the bulletin says: "In 1912, the state board of health reported 16,650 cases of typhoid fever in the four years, 1909-12, in the report and Lowell ranks comparatively lower than several smaller cities. There were 11 deaths in Lowell from typhoid fever in the four years as against 22 in Lynn, 23 in Fall River, 24 in Lawrence, 26 in Springfield and 27 in New Bedford."

Cases in Lowell

The following about typhoid fever in Lowell, in 1912, appears: 1. Two cases of typhoid fever occurred in Lowell in 1912 on the basis of a certain milkman early in February. The dairy was immediately investigated, and from the 12 employees, 11 were taken, of which 11 were negative. The thirteenth test was atypical. Some nothing was found here to explain satisfactorily the cases. Further investigations were made at other dairies from which the milkman secured milk, and at one place the chairman, all with typhoid fever, had just been removed to the hospital. The milk had been infected by this man in the handling, and this was the source of the infection in the cases reported. Later positive widals were obtained from the thirteenth man at the milkman's dairy, and this same man was shown to be harboring typhoid bacteria for a period of seven weeks, though he himself had never had the disease, nor was he ill during the period in question. But for this investigation the carrier would not have been discovered.

Through this investigation was undertaken promptly, and the sale of milk from this source was forbidden when but six cases had been reported, there were 24 additional cases reported during the remainder of the month, 22 of which were attributed directly to this source.

2. Milk handled by a table maid who was coming down with the disease infected 60 people who spent labor day at a country hotel in Worcester county in 1909.

Weekly Death Returns

The report also contains weekly returns of deaths from cities and towns of more than 10,000 population, and for the week ending Feb. 1, 1913, the total number of deaths reported in this city (from all causes) was 20, as against 58 in Cambridge, 38 in New Bedford and 23 in Springfield, all smaller cities.

Typhoid in Gardens

Relative to typhoid fever the report states that lettuce, celery and other vegetables, used without cooking, and taken from gardens where sewage or the disease is least suspected and when the fewest precautions are observed, and during the first three weeks of the sickness.

Infection Through Carriers

Of recent years another source of infection has been recognized, one which readily explains many cases hitherto impossible to account for satisfactorily. It has been found that certain persons, called carriers, harbor typhoid bacilli and discharge them through the urine and feces. The elimination of bacilli is not constant, but intervals of varying length occur when the stools and urine are free from the germs. Bacteriological examinations are therefore often necessary to demonstrate that a carrier is no longer a source of danger.

For convenience carriers have been divided into two classes: the transient, when the bacilli are found for a period of less than three months, and the chronic, when they are found for a longer period. The chronic carriers are the most dangerous, as they may carry the infection for years. Chronic carriers include persons who have had the disease and leading persons who have never had it.

Of 43 carriers discovered in Massachusetts, where carriers have been especially studied, 21 were transient and 22 were chronic. Of the transient, 12.6 per cent. had had typhoid fever, three months or less, and of the chronic, 50 per cent. had had typhoid fever, three months or more.

Several painstaking and careful investigations by different observers have shown that over 11 per cent. of the cases investigated were eliminating bacilli for a period exceeding six weeks after the cessation of the fever.

Conservative judgment, based upon data available at the present time, indicates that 4 or 5 per cent. of the cases become carriers. It is not known how long a person may continue to be a carrier. Instances are recorded where the period is known to have extended over ten years, thirty, even forty or more years.

This means that in Massachusetts alone there are from 125 to 150 carriers added to the population from year to year. The important significance of these facts is plain when we realize that typhoid bacilli carriers are liable at any time to be employed on dairy farms, in public places such as hotels or restaurants, or in homes as cooks and waitresses, or in other positions where their work involves the handling of food products.

Experience in Lowell

In connection with the preparation of this report several experiences with carrier infection have been encountered:

1. One experience, occurring in Lowell, well illustrates the desirability of the early report of cases and the importance of early co-operation with the laboratory, since the source of infection was found and preventive measures were taken before the report of the cases had been received through the ordinary channels.

The state health inspector, happening to be in the Lowell laboratory on August 8, learned of three positive widals taken on August 5, 2 and 8 from patients in North Chelmsford. By arrangement, the three positive cases and two other doubtful cases in North Chelmsford were visited on August 8. All five obtained milk from the same dairy. A visit showed the dairy

Police men all over the world use TIZ. Police men stand on their feet all day and know what sore, tender, swollen feet really mean. They use TIZ because TIZ cures their feet right up. It keeps feet in perfect condition. Read what this policeman has to say: "I was surprised and delighted with TIZ for tender feet. I hardly know how to thank you enough for it. It's superior to powders or plasters. I can keep my feet in perfect condition. I believe in my earnest gratitude for TIZ. I am a policeman and keep on my feet all day."—Emory Farrell, Austin, Texas.

You never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold. TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that keeps TIZ clean at every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain and scowl, forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you allow your feet to be swayed in favor of taking a substitute for TIZ, you'll have to answer to your feet. For there is nothing else will ensure your feet being well. TIZ is for sale at all drug stores, department and general stores at 25 cents a box. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. BABY SHOT BY PLAYMATE

Bullet Grazed Top of Head—Will Recover

BOSTON, April 22.—Rocio Fernis, 1 year, narrowly escaped instant death yesterday when a bullet accidentally fired from a revolver in the hands of Antonio Furest, 11, of 110 Occutur street, grazed the top of her head and inflicted a severe scalp wound. Furest, who was playing with the child in a room in his house, where the shooting took place, ran away. Last night the boy had not been found, although his parents and the police had made search for him.

According to the children who were in the room, young Furest had been playing with them before the accident. He was making about the room he found a revolver in a bureau drawer and kept playing with it.

Suddenly the weapon started fire and they saw their little playmate drop to the floor. The frightened children ran to the street and told the child's mother, Mrs. Rocio Fernis, of 105 D. (Latin) street.

The child was revived and taken to her home, and it is believed that unless complications develop she will recover.

Encouraging Reports by
Y. M. C. A. OfficersWOMEN AND GIRLS HAVE NOT ASKED FOR INSTRUCTIONS

In Swimming—Officers Who Served During the Past Year Were Re-elected

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last night and the annual report of President Frank A. Bowen, together with other reports, was very encouraging. It was expected that the association would have before it a communication from the Y. W. C. A. relative to the use of women and girls, but the communication was not in evidence and the physical committee took no action.

The annual report of the president was as follows:

In presenting to the directors my annual report as president of the Young men's Christian association, I wish to thank you for your generous and loyal support during the past year. In many respects the year has marked an epoch in the history of the association in Lowell.

Through the courtesy of Mr. A. E. O'Brien, who had purchased the old building in Hurd street, we held the last year annual meeting in the Hurd street rooms. That was the last meeting of the association in the building that had been the home of the association for more than a score of years.

We had secured temporary quarters in Hurd building and the first directors' meeting of the new year was held in our new rooms. There the work was carried on under many difficulties, through the summer and fall until we were obliged to vacate to make room for the People's Club.

The new building at the time was so far completed that we were able to transfer the secretary's desk to the building and begin work there, although under many difficulties and inconveniences.

Conditions have gradually improved until at the present time the building is practically completed and most of our activities are in full swing. Owing, however, to the lateness of the season and believe in its work for the development of the boys and men of Lowell. Detailed reports of the work of the past year will be given by the chairman of the various committees.

S. H. Thompson, chairman of the board of trustees, presented the following report of the trust funds:

The treasurer of the board of trustees reports that the John street church fund, the H. L. Tibbets fund, the Margaret W. Nichols fund and the E. P. Woods fund being specifically designated for the new building have been turned over to Mr. Clarence W. Whittemore, treasurer of the building fund, by vote of the directors and trustees of the association.

The following funds are still in the hands of the treasurer of the trustees in devoted to the current expenses of the association work:

W. H. White fund $5000
J. Clark fund $215
Abbie G. Stevens 100
Harriet M. Brown 100

Total $5315

Further endowments to aid in the current expenses are greatly needed.

Physical Department
W. H. Hoyt, chairman of the physical department, submitted a report on the activities of the past year, all of which are well remembered.

A senior leaders corps has been organized and has helped to make the gymnasium classes successful. A medical staff has been appointed under the direction of Dr. Randall and physical examinations are being made of all physical department members. To date 604 examinations have been made.

A total of 6508 took part in 189 activities.

The attendance at the swimming pool is estimated at about 6000. Baths taken during the year estimated 25,000.

Other interesting reports came from C. F. Fleming, chairman of the membership committee; A. E. French, chairman of the educational committee; Roland Black, on social life and activities; the boys' report by H. O. Brooks, a report of the swimming campaign by A. J. Wick.

Old Officers Re-elected

Police in Sensational Chase

BOSTON, April 22.—After a sensational chase last evening, with the police wading through the Revere marshes and swimming Belle Isle creek, James Lyden, charged with the theft of two packages of copper wire, was captured, while a second man escaped.

Policemen Shanahan, Blackman and Pearson, who participated in the chase, were covered with wet mud and wet to the skin when they brought Lyden, also dripping from his immersion in the creek, to the police station. Patrolman Ahern, fired better. He had gone around the Revere Heights side of the marsh to head off the escaping man, who was forced back into the hands of the other officers when Ahern appeared before him with his revolver leveled.

The men were found stealing copper wire from a factory.

TWO WERE SHOT DOWN

Deadly Pistol Duel in Franklin, Ky.

FRANKLIN, Ky., April 22.—Two men are dead, one fatally wounded and three others more or less seriously hurt as the result of a pistol duel that occurred in the streets of this city.

Jude John H. Goodnight, 36, and William Taylor, 45, were slain, while James Taylor, son of William, was fatally wounded.

It is said an altercation arose between young Taylor and Sheriff Gossett, following a street fight. The sheriff ordered young Taylor off the ground, but some time later Taylor, accompanied by his father, came back.

The altercation was renewed and the elder Taylor and the sheriff opened fire with the result that William Taylor fell, pierced by six bullets. Young Taylor then opened fire with two automatic revolvers, but Gossett escaped unhurt.

After the fight it was found that young Taylor had been shot and mortally wounded. Jude Goodnight had been hit by one of the stray bullets and died several hours later.

Vernon Witt, a horseman; John Laue, an insurance man, and Will Moore, a farmer, also were wounded by stray bullets. The city is quiet.

HEARING TOOK PLACE AT STATE HOUSE YESTERDAY

Several Charges Made Including Lowering of Registration and Renewal Fees

A hearing on the barbers' bill was granted to P. J. Sheehan, representing the journeymen barbers and Henry Sterling of the state branch of the A. F. of L., by the ways and means committee at the state house yesterday morning.

The bill has been rerafted, it seems, and the new draft provides a commission to comprise of a registered physician at $10 per day and two practical barbers, each at $5 per day, to examine and grant certificates to all practicing barbers and to revoke the same in case they fail to provide clean service.

Until the passage of the act, every barber may obtain registration without this examination, but after the bill is passed, the new barbers must display a knowledge of the ordinary skin diseases before being granted the certificate. The fee for registration was $3 and $1 a year for renewal and has been cut to $2.50 and 25c, respectively by the committee on public health.

The intention of these committees is to insure good service and to generally elevate the barbers' profession. The law is in vogue in some of the other states of the east and seems to be meeting with success and general approval. Mr. Sheehan stated that in his estimation there are between 2000 and 4000 registered barbers in Massachusetts now practicing. There was no opposition and the hearing was closed.

BOSTON, April 22.—After a sensational chase last evening, with the police wading through the Revere marshes and swimming Belle Isle creek, James Lyden, charged with the theft of two packages of copper wire, was captured, while a second man escaped.

Policemen Shanahan, Blackman and Pearson, who participated in the chase, were covered with wet mud and wet to the skin when they brought Lyden, also dripping from his immersion in the creek, to the police station. Patrolman Ahern, fired better. He had gone around the Revere Heights side of the marsh to head off the escaping man, who was forced back into the hands of the other officers when Ahern appeared before him with his revolver leveled.

The men were found stealing copper wire from a factory.

TWO WERE SHOT DOWN

Deadly Pistol Duel in Franklin, Ky.

FRANKLIN, Ky., April 22.—Two men are dead, one fatally wounded and three others more or less seriously hurt as the result of a pistol duel that occurred in the streets of this city.

It is said an altercation arose between young Taylor and Sheriff Gossett, following a street fight. The sheriff ordered young Taylor off the ground, but some time later Taylor, accompanied by his father, came back.

The altercation was renewed and the elder Taylor and the sheriff opened fire with the result that William Taylor fell, pierced by six bullets. Young Taylor then opened fire with two automatic revolvers, but Gossett escaped unhurt.

After the fight it was found that young Taylor had been shot and mortally wounded. Jude Goodnight had been hit by one of the stray bullets and died several hours later.

Vernon Witt, a horseman; John Laue, an insurance man, and Will Moore, a farmer, also were wounded by stray bullets. The city is quiet.

Several Charges Made Including Lowering of Registration and Renewal Fees

A hearing on the barbers' bill was granted to P. J. Sheehan, representing the journeymen barbers and Henry Sterling of the state branch of the A. F. of L., by the ways and means committee at the state house yesterday morning.

The bill has been rerafted, it seems, and the new draft provides a commission to comprise of a registered physician at $10 per day and two practical barbers, each at $5 per day, to examine and grant certificates to all practicing barbers and to revoke the same in case they fail to provide clean service.

Until the passage of the act, every barber may obtain registration without this examination, but after the bill is passed, the new barbers must display a knowledge of the ordinary skin diseases before being granted the certificate. The fee for registration was $3 and $1 a year for renewal and has been cut to $2.50 and 25c, respectively by the committee on public health.

The intention of these committees is to insure good service and to generally elevate the barbers' profession. The law is in vogue in some of the other states of the east and seems to be meeting with success and general approval. Mr. Sheehan stated that in his estimation there are between 2000 and 4000 registered barbers in Massachusetts now practicing. There was no opposition and the hearing was closed.

Martin Ready for Zhayzko

CHICAGO, April 22.—Constant Leo Martin, the Belgian wrestler who tomorrow night will meet Stanislaus Zhayzko in a final match was pronounced today physically perfect by Martin Delaney, athletic director of the Chicago Athletic club, who has been training him. The wrestlers announced last night that they had finished training.

Pick Me Up Quick

Pepticon Pills Do It

A few days after taking Pepticon Pills you realize you are being "picked up," i. e., toned up and invigorated. This is due to the unusual tonic properties of these Pills, which we believe have never before been equaled.

If you are pale, weak, nervous, run down, with no appetite and ailing generally, a 50c package of Pepticon Pills will change your whole condition.

department, submitted a report on the activities of the past year, all of which are well remembered.

A senior leaders corps has been organized and has helped to make the gymnasium classes successful. A medical staff has been appointed under the direction of Dr. Randall and physical examinations are being made of all physical department members. To date 604 examinations have been made.

The attendance at the swimming pool is estimated at about 6000. Baths taken during the year estimated 25,000.

Other interesting reports came from C. F. Fleming, chairman of the membership committee; A. E. French, chairman of the educational committee; Roland Black, on social life and activities; the boys' report by H. O. Brooks, a report of the swimming campaign by A. J. Wick.

Old Officers Re-elected

REPEAL OF BAR AND BOTTLE BILL

Killed in House by Vote of 120 to 105—Teachers' Tenure Bill Was Amended

BOSTON, April 22.—The bill providing for local option in the matter of the bar and bottle act of 1905 was defeated in the house yesterday, 120 to 105, one of the largest votes of the year. The size of the vote for the bill was a surprise even to its friends, who will seek reconsideration of its rejection.

This bill, which would practically repeal the bar and bottle act, had been favorably reported by the committee on legal affairs and was the first item on the calendar.

Representative Haines of Medford opened debate against the bill, stating that the law operated greatly to reduce the number of arrests by nearly 1000 a year. He said all except those who are directly concerned in the liquor business have observed that the law has improved conditions, and concluded that there is no demand for its repeal except from those who are connected with the business.

John J. Murphy of Boston, favoring the bill, took exception to a circular sent out by the Anti-Saloon league, in which the Boston Licensing board was quoted as favoring a retention of the present law. He read a report from the board stating that it was convinced that the law has worked to increase the sale of liquor to be consumed in the home. He admitted that the number of arrests for drunkenness has decreased, but denied that the bar and bottle law is responsible for the improved condition.

Calls Present Law Foolish

Representative Wood of Gardner said the bar and bottle law has helped to regulate the abuse of liquor; if it is a fact, as the liquor dealers claim, that the law has increased the sale of bottled goods, the liquor dealers would be the last to ask for its repeal. One of Boston's prominent social workers told the committee, he said that in many places she had found that the amount of liquor consumed in the home had materially decreased, and he thought the testimony of such a woman should have great weight.

Burdick of Adams favored the bill. Representative Wood offered another, to make it take effect upon its acceptance by the school committee in each city and town.

Representative Beck of Chelsea opposed the Wood amendment, contending that the house might just as well kill the bill as adopt this amendment. His view prevailed and the amendment was rejected on a voice vote, after which the bill amendment was adopted, 49 to 25. The bill was then passed to be engrossed and sent to the senate.

Grade Crossing Bill

Representative Prime of Winchester offered to the bill to relieve towns and cities of any portion of the cost of abolishing grade crossings, unless they petition for such abolition, an amendment to make the bill apply to all future payments under petitions for the abolition of grade crossings pending in court at the time when the act takes effect. He said his town has had a petition pending in the courts for eight years, and he thought it unfair that such a town should be required to pay 10 per cent of the cost while some other town where the crossings are abolished shortly after the act takes effect will be relieved.

Representative Barnes of Mansfield opposed the amendment as unconstitutional, and Representative Washburn of Worcester objected to it as inequitable. The latter offered an amendment, providing that all cities and towns which have hitherto contributed to the cost of abolishing grade crossings shall be reimbursed for their expenditures.

Mr. Barnes raised a point of order that both amendments were beyond the scope of the petition, the chair ruling that the prime amendment was within the scope of the petition and reserving his decision as to the Washburn amendment. The matter was then postponed until today.

Greenwood Breaks Tie
The state senate yesterday amended the bill relative to industrial controversies. As originally reported this bill provides that any employee of any concern might compel the state board of conciliation and arbitration to investigate and report on any labor controversy.

Amendments were offered by Senator Blanchard of Somerville to provide that the state board need not make any investigation unless the petition for such inquiry was signed by five of every 25 persons employed by the concern involved, and that then it would be in the discretion of the state board to make an investigation and report.

The entire bill was very much involved, but the Blanchard amendments were adopted 17 to 16. Pres. Greenwood casting the deciding vote in favor of them.

WHO OWNS THE BEACH?

BEACH ASSOCIATES CLAIM RESERVATION LAW UNLAWFUL

The Decision As To Constitutionality of the Law Pending Before Supreme Court

NEWBURYPORT, April 22.—Hundreds of people who for a decade have composed the summer colony of Salisbury Beach are just now in a quandary as to whom they shall pay for the use of the land on which their cottages are located.

At present there are two distinct bodies claiming the right to collect this revenue—the Salisbury Beach Reservation Commission appointed by the state of Massachusetts and the Salisbury Beach Associates. The latter is an organization claiming a claim to the entire beach.

Wednesday of this week, the date set by the reservation commission on which they will take active possession of the property at the beach. Almost simultaneously with the announcement of the commission comes that of the other organization, which is a communication to all of the cottage owners regarding their rent, which falls due the first week of May. The communication warns them to pay Walter Coulson, treasurer of the Salisbury Beach Associates, or they will lose their rights.

While this activity is being pushed ahead from both sides, the question of who is the real holder of the title is pending in the courts. The commission seized a portion of the beach last year and recently made another seizure, taking all the land from the Merrimack river along the Atlantic coast to the New Hampshire state line. The strip of land is seven miles long and half a mile wide. The associates claim that the act creating the state reservation is unconstitutional.

Muster Guilty of Non-Support
BOSTON, April 22.—The Rev. Arthur Whitaker, a retired Baptist clergyman and president of the Welfare Union, was found guilty of non-support by Judge Luce in the Waltham court yesterday and ordered to pay his wife $14 this week and $1 a week in the future.

MISSION AT ST. PETER'S

Important Sermon Promised Tonight, Beginning at 7.30—Large Attendance

"Mortal Sin" was the subject of the sermon at the mission for single men at St. Peter's church last night by Rev. Fr. Gunning, following the preliminary instructions and recitation of the rosary at which Rev. Fr. O'Leary officiated. The sermon was the second in the course followed by the Redemptorist missionaries, the first being on the importance of the soul's salvation. Last evening mortal sin was discussed in a most eloquent and thoughtful discourse, as the hindrance to salvation and the disease which causes the failure of the soul to attain God, its last end.

The preacher emphasized the horror of mortal sin and illustrated his words with stories and examples. The soul in mortal sin, he said, is very near to damnation and all that is needed to send it to everlasting torment in hell away from the sight of God is a sudden death. When one steps and takes time to consider the unspeakable danger of being in a state of mortal sin and at the same time considers the absolute certainty of death together with the dread uncertainty as to the time, place and manner of death, truly he would realize the importance of being in a state of grace throughout one's whole life. Such is the awfulness of mortal sin and God's hatred of it. Knowing this, man should make use of the means afforded by the church for keeping his soul free from the contamination of the devil and thus eliminate the danger of losing God and happiness with Him in heaven.

As the greatest example of the attitude of God toward mortal sin, the preacher pictured the death of Christ, the saviour of mankind, upon the cross, crucified by the sins of the world. Every time we commit mortal sin we virtually crucify God, murder Him, as did the Jews centuries ago.

There was a very large congregation at the services last evening. The preliminary instructions were a description of the significance of the rosary and the prayers which accompany its recitation. The priest explained the sorrowful, joyful and glorious mysteries, the origin of the prayers and the importance of the rosary, which embodies all the mysteries of man's redemption. Rev. Fr. O'Leary announced that this evening the most important sermon of the entire week will be preached and urged every man to be present and seated at half-past seven, and according to the words of Rev. Fr. O'Leary, it is one which the men cannot afford to miss. The mission masses at 5 and 8 o'clock are very largely attended and the Redemptorist Fathers at St. Peter's express themselves as highly pleased with the spirit shown by the men.

CHELMSFORD

Mrs. Mary M. G. Monroe celebrated her 80th birthday at her home in Chelmsford Centre last Saturday, and the occasion will long be remembered by those who attend.

Relatives and friends gathered at her home throughout the day and Mrs. Monroe was the recipient of many beautiful gifts among them being a large birthday cake with initials M. G. M., and dates 1833 to 1913, and a mission bookcase.

Among those present who were nearest and dearest were: Two daughters, Mrs. D. W. Weaver of West Tewksbury and Miss Daisy Sirena Monroe of Boston; a daughter of Mrs. Seaver, Mrs. Alfred Dixon of Lowell, who was present with her own little daughter, Cora May, aged three and one-half years, completed four generations.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The Mathew Temperance Institute has appointed a committee of ten to make arrangements for an "Old Time Members' Night" which will be held in the near future. The M. T. I. Bachelor Girls are zealously preparing their musical song revue, which bids fair to be one of the best ever. Miss Blanche Perrin is training them in the dances and the musical director is Mr. William Gilmore.

Street Car Men's Auxiliary
Last night the wives and daughters of the street car men met and formed an auxiliary to the organization and elected the following temporary officers: Mrs. William E. Sproule, president; Mrs. Edward Welch, secretary; and Mrs. Thomas Murphy, treasurer. A committee composed of Mrs. Patrick Lowe, Mrs. Clarence Allen, Mrs. Thomas McOsker, Mrs. W. A. Sargent and Mrs. Inez Jones was elected to draw up by-laws to govern the auxiliary. The meeting adjourned to meet next Monday night and all wives of carmen are invited to attend.

President Crockett, Edward Welch and W. E. Sproule were present to assist in the organization of the auxiliary.

Sons of Veterans
The membership of Camp Farragut, Sons of Veterans, exceeded the 100 mark when a number of new names were added to the list at the last regular meeting of the organization. Commander Earl Thissell of Post 42 was a visitor to the camp during the session and he addressed the members, dwelling upon the importance of the organization to keep up the good work of the G. A. R., the ranks of which are thinning rapidly.

After the meeting the camp and comrades of the several posts of the city were entertained by the commissary department and spent the evening. Addresses were made by Commander Thissell of Post 42, Commander Leroy of Camp 13 and Post Commander Donnet, who was the first commander and has been a member for 22 years. Then Post Commander S. A. Beckering read a carefully prepared paper on the history of the order in Lowell. On Flag Day the brothers of this camp will unite with the Daughters of Veterans in a celebration, the Mary E. Smith Tent and recitations. The affair closed with the singing of patriotic hymns.

Court Merrimack, E. of A.
The entertainment committee of Court Merrimack, Foresters of America, met last night and completed the arrangements for the smoke talk which is to be held this evening at the meeting in Stratton hall. Lecturer John T. Hendricks will officiate as the master of ceremonies and addresses will be delivered by several of the past chief rangiers of the court. There will be a program of music by prominent local talent and refreshments will be served. The committee in charge comprises the officers of the court.

Molly Varum Chapter
Molly Varum Chapter, D. A. R., observed Patriots day with a meeting and entertainment at the Spalding house. There were several interesting addresses and a pleasing program of musical selections and recitations. The affair closed with the singing of patriotic hymns.

Lawrence K. of C. Unice
If you want to enjoy yourself thoroughly and mix with a crowd of pleasant-looking people in a way that will make you regret the end of the evening's entertainment, don't fail to attend the dance to be conducted at Stanley's on the Merrimack tomorrow evening by the members of the Lawrence council.

North Chelmsford
The members of the Aero Whist club met at the home of Mrs. Frank E. McCall on Saturday evening and nearly every member of the club was present. One of the features of the evening was the presentation of several gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atwood, and their daughter Alice, who were on the eve of their departure to a new home in Fitchburg. Refreshments were served and the party broke up at a late hour, all wishing the Atwood family health and prosperity in their new home.

According to Statements by Experts

Expert Examiner of Accounts Made Astonishing Statement at Interstate Commerce Hearing

BOSTON, April 22.—Profits amounting to more than $170,000 were made by President Charles S. Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford by purchasing New Haven stock and selling it at a profit, some of it to concerns of which he was himself president, according to the testimony of David E. Brown, expert examiner of accounts of the interstate commerce commission, at the hearing before Commissioner C. A. Tamm in the Federal building yesterday.

When these dealings came to light, Commissioner Brown declared that it was his belief that the transactions were authorized by the directors, but that he would like to have Mr. Mellen appear before the commission to explain them in their true light. He has not been summoned to appear. It developed during the hearing, however, that some of the New York stock was sold to a new York suit in connection with the Grand Trunk deal.

The bill provides for the appointment of a commission of five members to investigate the conditions in Massachusetts with regard to the white slave situation. The commission is to report to the general court of 1914 with recommendations as to some method through which the traffic may be overcome.

DIST. ATTORNEY HIGGINS

Will Investigate Confession of Jennings on Murder of Mrs. Donovan

BOSTON, April 22.—Dist. Attorney John J. Higgins will investigate the declaration of James B. Jennings that he murdered Mrs. Mildred Donovan near Holy Cross cemetery in Malden on New Year's eve with a view to determining whether or not to place the case before the grand jury.

Jennings' declaration that he choked his victim 15 minutes in accomplishing her death is regarded as improbable by the authorities for the reason that there were no marks of strangulation on the woman's throat.

The woman's relatives believe she was murdered.

SCHOOL PUPILS STRIKE

Because of Return of Destroyed Handsworth Park Boathouse

Pittsburgh Supt.

PITTSBURGH, April 22.—S. L. Hoeter, superintendent of the public schools of Pittsburgh, acquitted by a jury in criminal court last Friday of two serious charges preferred by a man employed in his home, returned to his duties yesterday. Yesterday afternoon children at a number of public schools throughout the city refused to enter the school buildings.

In some instances the parents of the children, it is alleged, took them home. Late yesterday and last night a number of parades of children were held.

In the business district there were 200 children in the parade. Banners subscribed "Kick Hoeter Out" were carried.

Supt. Hoeter formerly was head of the schools of St. Paul, Minn. After charges were made against him to the coroner by Ethel Ivy-Fisher, a domestic, while ill in a local hospital, Hoeter was indicted and was, at his own request, granted a leave of absence by the board of education until such time as he should prove his innocence.

His acquittal last Friday was followed by his return as head of the public school system yesterday.

The extent of the alleged strike or insubordination of the school children yesterday against the presence of Hoeter as superintendent of schools cannot be accurately stated. It is known that several hundred pupils, at least, left the school buildings.

Sewer Dept. Work Held Up

Sewer department work is being held back because of delay in securing pipe. It seems that a requisition sent in April 9 has not yet materialized because the matter was not acted upon until last week. It was stated today that the sewer department is ready to do business just as soon as the pipe arrives and it is not expected that the pipe will arrive this week.

LUSTROUS HAIR

SOFT—ABUNDANT

Unightly, Matted, Scraggy Hair Made Soft and Lustrous At Once—Parisian Sage.

If your hair is anything short of perfect, if it is too dry—brittle—dull, thin, or has been falling out, you can immediately bring about a change by using Parisian Sage. The first application removes dandruff and increases the beauty of the hair.

A scientific study of the hair shows just what elements are needed to soften it, make it wavy and glossy, and make it grow—just like healthy hair.

Parisian Sage supplies hair needs. It is a tea-colored liquid, delicately perfumed, not sticky or greasy, that comes in a fifty cent bottle at the druggists, and toilet counters. The Girl with the Auburn Hair on the package.

Apply Parisian Sage and the effect is immediate. One application stops the hair from itching and freshens up the hair. Use it daily for a week and you will be surprised and delighted. Those who have tried it write us enthusiastic letters and tell all their friends about it.

Sold by Carter & Sherburne and dealers everywhere with a money-back protection to every purchaser. If not satisfactory, Parisian Sage is one of the quickest acting hair tonics known.

MILITANT ARSON SQUAD

Received Vigorous Opposition by Republican Members But Was Approved by Vote of 14-7

WASHINGTON, April 22.—With the entire ways and means committee in session for the first time Chairman Underwood laid before it the new democratic tariff revision bill. After receiving vigorous opposition by the republican members and Victor Murdock, the new progressive member of the committee it was approved by the strict party vote of 14 to 7 and reported to the house to be called up tomorrow for general debate.

Democrats of the house planned to caucus tonight or early tomorrow to pass on a rule proposed to limit general debate on the bill to eight legislative days and to curtail amendments when the bill is read section by section before being placed upon its passage.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—An "arson squad" of militant suffragettes succeeded last night in burning down the Handsworth Park boathouse in a Birmingham suburb. Four pleasure boats and a large quantity of equipment were destroyed.

With the opening of the boating season attempts to destroy skills and shells are expected and along most of the rivers and lakes a close watch is kept by special patrols night and day for suffragettes bent on destruction.

Drop the Revolver

"You had better stick to the needle and drop the revolver," was the police magistrate's advice to Annie Bell, the suffragette sent to Holloway Jail on the night of April 9 during the imprisonment of Mrs. Parkhurst.

Miss Bell, who had been found in possession of a revolver, with which she said "if any man had interfered with me I would have shot him" was sentenced today to three weeks' imprisonment. She refused to be bound over to keep the peace for a year and told the magistrate "your advice is not of any use at all."

MATRIMONIAL

In Winnipeg, Manitoba, April 5, Mr. Percy Archibald Stapleford, son of Mrs. Alice E. Stapleford of this city, and Miss Alice Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts of Jarragat, Eng., were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. B. Clynch, B. A. The young couple will reside in Edmonton.

McCUNE—FRANCIS

Mr. Charles Arthur McCune and Miss Anna Francis were married Saturday at the home of Rev. S. A. Jackson, 24 Melburn street, this city. The young couple will reside in Montreal, Quebec, immediately after the ceremony for the latter place, where they will make their home.

HOLMES—GILLESPIE

The marriage of Mr. Nelson Charles Holmes and Miss Isabelle Angles Gillespie was solemnized last night at the parsonage of Rev. A. Frederick Dunne, pastor of the Highland Congregational church.

JUSSAUME—GERMAIN

Jean Jussauime, a prominent member of the C. M. A. C., and a sergeant of Garde d'Honneur, and Miss Stella Germain were married last night, the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. Jerome Dias, O. M. I. The bride who was attired in a brown traveling suit was attended by her brother-in-law, Victor Achin, while the bridegroom was accompanied by his father, Raphael Jussauime. The young couple were the recipients of many useful gifts, left in the early part of the evening on a wedding tour during which they will visit friends and relatives in Manchester, Boston and Holyoke. The bride is at home to their friends at 459 Moody street after May 1.

PLEURY—SIGOUIN

At 8 o'clock last evening, Mr. Ovide Pleury and Laura Sigouin were united in marriage at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Jerome Dias, O. M. I. BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 22.—The general strike of Belgian workmen for manhood suffrage, which started ten days ago, has been brought to a conclusion favorable to the workmen,
down their tools to enforce their demand for equal suffrage.

The leaders of the socialist trade
unions and their followers have gained
their first point, which was to make
a change in the Belgian parliamentary
franchise hitherto to their disadvantage at the polls, owing to its system
more highly educated classes.

At the last count, 953,676 votes and 355,631 three votes, so that the single
votes were always overwhelmed.

This is the first occasion on record
in which a political strike has resulted
and for the excellent control shown by
the men, who have entirely refrained
from violence. They have not yet obtained their full demand but the settlement is a step in advance.

adopted unanimously by the chamber.

62 First Class Licenses at Meeting This Morning

The license commissioners met at
their rooms at the police station on Market street this morning at 10 o'clock and spent two hours in strenuous session over the problem of
granting the liquor licenses for the
the board, John J. Mullaney, Charles H. Hanson and Thomas P. Houliher,
were in attendance at the meeting and
forenoon. After granting 62 first class
licenses the board adjourned its meeting until 2:30.

The afternoon session of the board
the applications of Richard P. Murphy, Alena B. Murphy, Joseph Melbourne, R.
F. Murphy & Co., 559-601 Broadway, was added to the list of first class common victuallers licenses that were granted this morning, making the total number of these licenses, 63 as against 54 last year. There were only 63 applications before the board this year, all of them holding licenses at the present time. The application of Mary A. Clark, Joseph M. Clark, J. H. Clark & Co., 15 South street, was for a fourth class license this year instead of the first class common victualler's license which they now hold.

Out of the list of 12 applicants for first class innholders' permits, 11 were granted, that of Richard P. Murphy & Co., Middlesex street, being the only application that was not granted.

There were 32 fourth class applications out of which 30 were granted.
The applications of J. H. Clark & Co., 15 South street, John Joyce, 31 Central and 5-7-11 Middle street, and Olin Nord, 333-337 Moody street, were the three that were not granted.

The total list now is made up of 63 first class common victuallers, 111
first class innholders, 30 fourth class licenses and one-fifth class brewer's license, held by the Harvard Brewing Co. The board has to grant no other license which will be granted later.

First Class Common Victuallers
The list of first class common victuallers' licenses, as follows:
Richard P. Murphy, Alena B. Murphy, Joseph Melbourne, R. F. Murphy & Co., 559-601 Broadway.
William J. Brown, Mary J. Dawson,
Dawson & Co., 2 Thorndike street.
Hermidas Gervais, J. Albert, Gervais

CHARGES AGAINST SCOTT
W. W. MEN THWARTED

Will be Investigated—
City Hall Notes

John W. Scott, Lowell's scaler of weights and measures, was expected to arrive in Lowell this evening. Commissioner Cummings received a telegram to that effect this forenoon. Mr.
Cummings said today that the charges made against Mr. Scott by the state inspector would be investigated. Mr.
Scott is charged with failing to cooperate with the state inspectors in the work connected with his office.

Capt. F. H. Appleton of the Ancient and Honorable was a visitor at Mayor O'Donnell's office today. Capt. Appleton is treasurer of the Patterson Rubber Co.

Mayor O'Donnell will present the diplomas at the graduating exercises of the Evening Textile school tomorrow evening.

Three of the American Car Co.'s sprinklers and all of the old horse-drawn sprinklers were in operation today.

RELIEVED OF $150
SEVERE CARON CLAIMS HE WAS ROBBED

Man Who Never Lost a Game of Checkers Made a Bad Move and Lost
His Wallet

Severe Caron, residing in Coolidge street and known as Lowell's champion checker player, was relieved of $150 yesterday, so he claims. Where or how he lost the money he does not know, but he is sure that his wallet was taken away from him.

According to Caron's story, yesterday he went out with a few friends, visited in a certain house within a stone's throw of city hall. He remained there for some time and then went home. A few hours later he found that his wallet containing $150 in "fresh" bills, drawn from the bank in the morning, was missing. He searched and investigated but with no result. He has not the slightest idea who robbed him, or where he was robbed. The loss has not yet been reported to the police.

UNDER STATE CONTROL
MANUFACTURERS' VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATION OF CAPITAL, ORGANIZED AS HOLDING COMPANIES, AFFECTED BY EXECUTIVE ACT

BOSTON, April 22.—So-called voluntary associations of capital which have been organized in this state as holding companies for smaller public service corporations were placed under state control today through the signing of an executive act by Gov. Foss.

Voluntary organizations have heretofore been exempt from taxation from filing returns to state authorities and have not been amenable to orders by state commissions.

All such organizations will now be under the direct supervision of the railroad or gas and electric light commissions.

It was also voted to place Chief
May 1, with an annuity of $1,200, the vote being unanimous. The pay of the retiring chief will hereafter come out
department.

Previous to the election Commissioner Cummings announced that Capt.
Crowley, who had been mentioned as
a candidate for the position of chief,
was out of the contest, while Commissioner Barrett declared that District Chief Sullivan had also withdrawn from the fight.

Fire Chief's Salary
Alderman Barrett moved that the fire
chief's salary be reduced from $2,200
to $2,000, but Mayor O'Donnell called
attention to the fact that the ordinance
to become operative within one year.

It seemed to be the general impression prevailing at city hall that Capt.
District Chief Saunders.

Other Business Commissioner Donnelly's order to borrow $500 for new sidewalks was read by the mayor, and the date assigned for a hearing in the matter was May 5.

An order to borrow $3000 for the completion of the unfinished granite block paving, voted in 1912, was also assigned for a hearing on May 6.

An order for a sewer in Lawrence, Boylston, Dayton and Hampstead streets was adopted. The order called for $7200.

Harvey B. Greene was given leave to withdraw on his petition for edgemons and orders in front of his premises in Pine street.

R. J. Corbin's petition for a barber pole in Central street was adopted.

MAXIMUM R. R. RATES
New Hampshire House of Representa-

CONCORD, N. H., April 22.—The house of representatives today passed a compromise bill authorizing the public service commission to prepare a new schedule of maximum railroad rates for trial by the railroads from Jan. 1 to October 1, 1914. At the latter date the railroad must accept or reject the new schedule as its permanent rates. If it rejects it the rates established by statute of 1913, now temporarily suspended, go into effect.

Tour of the Worst Streets Shows
Great Improvement—Gangs
of Men at Work

Last week Mayor James E. O'Donnell
issued a proclamation asking the residents of this city to cooperate with
the employees of the street department
and board of health in a general cleaning of the city, the said cleaning-up
to take place this week. The request
of the mayor was received very favorably in every part of the city, and already there have been great trans-
formations in certain districts.

By the end of the week if there is
no drop in the enthusiasm now prevail-
ing, the city of Lowell will be spotless,
and it is expected that it will remain
in such a condition for people are beginning to realize that dirt in a yard
or cellar is not very beneficial for those
residing in the vicinity. This general
at the request of the Lowell board of trade and indeed the result was very gratifying. However some people have forgotten all about cleanliness since

REPAIR CONCRETE WALK TROUBLE AT MILFORD
Men at Work in Tower's
Corner Today

The portion of the concrete sidewalk in front of Campbell's drug store at the junction of Central and Middlesex streets, which at the time of the bursting of the water main at Tower's corner was torn up for a considerable extent was today repaired to the great joy of the pedestrians who in pursuance of their daily duties are compelled to pass the space. Under way was the work of the city engineers. The men started early this morning and at two o'clock this afternoon the task was finished, and the walk even better than ever.

In rainy times the water would flow into the open space where the concrete had been removed and cause a large area at the corner to become a muddy mess, much to the discomfort of passersby.
More than two months have passed since that memorable breaking of the water pipe which flooded so many cellars and caused such great damage, and people were wondering whether or not the walk was to be replaced. Periodically men would appear to spread clinders over the place which when they became well trampled down only augmented the general untidy condition of the thoroughfare.

MILFORD, April 22.—Trouble between the strikers of the Draper company at Hopdale and the authorities in this town broke out afresh today, when many employees living here claimed that they had been held up on their way to the mills and appealed for police protection. There were several clashes between the strikers and the police but no arrests were made.

A parade of a small body of strikers headed by John M. Coldwell was made to Hopdale before six o'clock. Several other hands paraded through Milford streets. Police hurried to the scene while big auto trucks trundled over from Hopdale and carried the workers to the mills there.

STUDENT FOUND DEAD
Harvard Freshman Committed Suicide

CAMBRIDGE, April 22.—Lucien D.
Tennant, aged 25, of Terre Haute, Ind., a first year student in the Harvard graduate school, was found dead with a bullet hole in his head and a 35 calibre revolver lying beside him on the West Boston bridge today. The medical examiner reported that the young man was undoubtedly a suicide. No reason for the act is suggested. Tennant was graduated from DePauw university last year.

SHOT AND KILLED WIFE
SAG HARBOR, N. Y., April 22.—
Harry Lyons of Newark, a machinist, shot and killed his wife early today at her mother's home here and then turned the weapon on himself. His body was found on the beach at sunrise.
Lyons and his wife had been living apart.

HIGHWAYMEN FOOLED
Biscuit Co. Official Held

WESTERLY, R. I., April 22.—Two highwaymen were badly fooled today when they held up Edward Sullivan, a representative of a Boston biscuit company, and relieved him of a leather bag which they believed to contain the payroll of the White Rock mills, but which in reality contained only some sample crackers. The men had evidently supposed Sullivan to be the paymaster at the mills, who was due to pass the spot at about the time the robbery was committed.

Says Government Accountant, David E.
Brown, at Hearing

Company Paid $932,000 for Vessels and Used Them 3 Years

Pres. Mellen in Statement Attacks Attitude of Accountants

BOSTON, April 22.—Two steamers
for which the New England Navigation Co., a subsidiary, for which the New Haven road had paid $932,000 three years earlier were "broken up" (this disposition of the vessels realizing $44,000 for the company).

A part of the loss was sustained because of the unwillingness of officials of the company to have these steamers fall into the hands of competitors, according to evidence introduced by David E. Brown, a government accountant at the continuation of the hearing before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Prouty today. The commission is inquiring into the financial operations, rates, service and policies of the New Haven system.

Mr. Brown who testified yesterday regarding his examination of the books of the New Haven and its subsidiary companies told today under examination by Louis D. Brandeis, representing the Boston Fruit & Produce Exchange, of the history of the steamers Rhode Island and Connecticut, formerly operated by the New England Navigation Co.

The original cost of the Rhode Island in 1912 was $727,000 and the Connecticut was built seven years later at a cost of $673,000, both vessels being constructed for the old Providence & Stonington Co.

These steamers were acquired by the New England Navigation Co. which turned them over, in 1906, to the United States Transportation Co., another New Haven subsidiary, for $550,000. Two years later they were again turned back to the navigation company for $932,000. Mr. Brown said that he could not state why they were repurchased at an advanced price.

In 1910 the Rhode Island was broken up and $9000 was realized from the sale of her. The next year the Connecticut was "scrapped," the vulnerable was salvaged and placed in another craft at an estimated profit of $25,500 and $8,500 was received from the material in her, a total of $44,000 received from the two steamers.

Mr. Brown read a letter addressed by H. O. Nickerson, manager of the navigation company to Vice President Cochersperger of the New Haven road dated May 16, 1910, in which the writer said:

"The Connecticut I do not believe will ever be used again. $10,000 must be obtained for her if sold, but Mr.
Mellen has notified me the Rhode Island should be broken up. The Rhode Island stands the same as the Connecticut.
The reason the above price is set is because we do not want them to fall into the hands of anybody who would use them in competition with ourselves."

In resuming his examination of Mr.
Brown, Mr. Brandeis dwelt at length on the navigation company's bookkeeping entries for depreciation of steamships. Mr. Brown testified that in two years ending June 31, 1910, no charge for depreciation was made direct to the income although it might have been charged to maintenance.

Other questions brought up by Mr. Brown the statement that for five cent was the ordinary annual charge for depreciation in about all steamship companies, this being based on the assumption that 25 years is the life of the average steamer. The navigation company's depreciation charges in five years appeared on the books as $125-000. Reckoning at the four per cent.
rate, he said, this would represent the depreciation of $1,500,000 worth of ships. If the four per cent rule had been applied to the navigation company's steamers for the past five years the depreciation, he said, would have been about $2,300,000.

Mellen Attacks Accountant
BOSTON, April 22.—President Mellen of the New Haven system in a statement given out at the offices of the company this afternoon attacks the attitude of the accountants of the inter-state commerce commission who,
he says, never made the slightest inquiry of him during their five months'
investigation of the New Haven's books. He indignantly repels the insults that "he profited personally eight or nine years ago by transactions with the New Haven road."

In the monthly bulletin of the state board of health for February there is included an article on infection of the milk supply and spread of typhoid fever. In stating the importance of undetected typhoid carrier cases, Lowell's experience in 1910 is made part of the report.

The average typhoid death rate per 100,000 for Massachusetts cities and towns for the four years, 1908-11, is given in the report and Lowell stands comparatively low; lower than several smaller cities. There were 57 deaths in Lowell from typhoid fever in the four years as against 62 in Lynn, 72 in Fall River, 62 in Lawrence, 64 in Springfield and 54 in New Bedford.

1. Two cases of typhoid fever occurred in Lowell in 1910 on the route of a certain milkman early in September. The dairy was immediately investigated, and from the 13 employees, 12 were taken, of which 12 were negative. The thirteenth test was typical. Since nothing was found here to explain satisfactorily the cases, further investigations were made at other dairies from which the milkman secured milk, and at one place the dairyman, ill with typhoid fever, had just been removed to hospital. This man in the handling, and this was the source of the infection in the cases reported. Later positive Widal tests were obtained from the thirteenth man at the milkman's dairy, and this same man was shown to be carrying typhoid bacilli for a period of seven weeks, though he himself had never had the disease, nor was he ill during the period in question. But for this investigation the carrier would not have been discovered.

Though this investigation was undertaken promptly, and the sale of milk from this source was forbidden when but six cases had been reported, there were 51 additional cases reported during the remainder of the month, 53 of which were attributed directly to this source.

2. Milk handled by a table maid who was coming down with the disease infected 69 people who spent labor day at a country hotel in Worcester county in 1909.

Weekly Death Returns

The report also contains weekly returns of deaths from cities and towns of more than 10,000 population, and for the week ending Feb. 1, 1913, the total number of deaths reported in this city (from all causes) was 29, as against 35 in Cambridge, 38 in New Bedford and 39 in Springfield, all smaller cities.

Typhoid in Gardens

Relative to typhoid fever the report states that lettuce, celery and other vegetables, used without cooking, and taken from gardens where sewage or night soil is used for fertilizer, have spread typhoid infection.

In 1909, celery from a garden fertilized with sediment from a sewage filter bed was supposed to have infected 63 persons in one of the Massachusetts insane hospitals. The discharges from one, perhaps two typhoid cases, unrecognized, had gone to the filter bed without disinfection. Subsequently, when the filter bed was cleaned, a portion of the sludge was used on the celery beds.

3. Baker's products, handled by employees who are carriers, or who are coming down with the disease, have caused infection to those who used the products in question.

In 1909, in North Adams, through the use of Baker's products, six persons contracted typhoid fever. The infection was traced to two unreported cases in an adjoining town. Both, a baker and a driver, were employees of the bakery and both continued at work for some time after the onset of their illness.

4. Shell fish, oysters, clams, etc., taken from or stored in sewage-polluted waters near sewer outlets, have caused typhoid infection.

Oysters eaten raw at banquets resulted in the illness of 127 persons, of whom 21 developed unmistakable typhoid, at Winchester and South-typhoid, Eng., in 1902. The oysters at both banquets came from the same dealer, and were obtained from an oyster bed so located that the oysters were contaminated by sewage from the main sewer outlet serving a community where typhoid fever had been present for some time.

Infection Through Flies

Infection may be carried by flies in contact with typhoid patients and their discharges. This is especially the case in localities where unscreened privies and vaults are in use, or where there are no such conveniences.

Infection Through Contact

Contact infection is also a very important factor in the spread of the disease. By contact infection is meant actual personal contact or touch with the patient, as in caring for and nursing such cases, or contact through handling utensils or articles used by him, or infection through food or objects in the household which have been in contact with the patient, such as bed linen, towels, dishes, milk bottles, etc.

To be considered as contact infection, infection through the handling of infected objects as just suggested should be more or less immediate in point of time. A mother caring for the patient may later through failure to observe proper precautions, prepare with infected hands food for other members of the family, and thus spread infection to herself or them. Physicians and nurses are often infected through contact.

By far the largest percentage of contact infection occurs during the incubation period, when the presence of the disease is least suspected and when the fewest precautions are observed, and during the first three weeks of the sickness.

Of recent years another source of infection has been recognized, one which readily explains many cases hitherto impossible to account for satisfactorily. It has been found that certain persons, called carriers, harbor typhoid bacilli and discharge them through the urine and feces. The elimination of bacilli is not constant, but intervals of varying length occur when the stools and urine are free from the germs. Repeated examinations are, therefore, often necessary to demonstrate that a carrier is no longer a source of danger.

For convenience carriers have been divided into two classes: the transitory, when the bacilli are found for a period of less than three months, and the chronic, when they are found for a longer period. The class of transitory carriers includes (a) persons during the incubation stage of the disease, (b) those clinically recovered, but who still eliminate bacilli in their excretions, and (c) healthy persons in contact with the infection. Chronic carriers include persons who have had the disease and healthy persons who have never had it.

Of 131 carrier cases discovered in southwestern Germany, where carrier cases have been especially studied, 211 were transitory and 229 were chronic carriers. Of the transitory, 43.6 per cent, and of the chronic, 30 per cent, had had typhoid fever. Three months was considered the limit for distinguishing between transitory and chronic carriers.

Several painstaking and careful investigations by different observers have shown that over 11 per cent of the cases investigated were eliminating bacilli for a period exceeding six weeks after the cessation of the fever.

Conservative judgment, based upon data available at the present time, indicates that 4 or 5 per cent of the cases become carriers. It is not known how long a person may continue to be a carrier. Instances are recorded where the period is known to have extended over ten, twenty, thirty, even forty or more years.

This means that in Massachusetts alone there are from 120 to 150 carriers added to the population from year to year. The important significance of these facts is plain when we realize that typhoid bacilli carriers are liable at any time to be employed on dairy farms, in public places, such as hotels or restaurants, or in homes as cooks and waitresses, or in other positions where their work involves the handling of food products.

In connection with the preparation of this report, several experiences with carrier infection have been encountered:

The state health inspector, happening to be in the Lowell laboratory on August 8, learned of three positive Widal tests taken on August 5, 7 and 8 from patients in North Chelmsford. By arrangement the three positive cases and two other doubtful cases in North Chelmsford were visited on August 9. All five obtained milk from the same dairy. A visit showed the dairy to be rather dirty. Widal tests taken from all who were said to be connected with the dairy were negative. Being dissatisfied, the inspector made a second visit to the dairy on the morning of the 10th of August, and another employee was found who had recently come to the dairy. This man gave a positive Widal on August 11, though he himself was not ill, had never had typhoid fever, and could recall no illness since childhood. He probably was a carrier, as suitable preventive measures were taken, and no further cases resulted. All this preventive work, as stated above, had been accomplished before the usual reports had been received.

Cure of Milk Bottles
But 35 towns (no cities) placed for typhoid fever. The bearing of this fact upon the spread of infection through the exchange of milk bottles and the danger from the exchange of bottles at the grocer's has already been noted.

The use of milk bottles for other purposes than for which they are intended is prohibited by law. It is no uncommon sight to see specimens of urine brought into a doctor's office in a milk bottle, and authentic instances have been reported of tuberculosis sputum being delivered for examination in a milk bottle. These bottles are thrown into the ash can and eventually find their way to the public dump.

One firm in this state makes a business of collecting stray bottles and returning them to their owners. During the past year nearly 2,500,000 bottles were handled by this exchange. Of this number 500,000 were picked up at various dumps. Many of these bottles were in an unspeakably filthy condition. After washing with warm water and soda these bottles are distributed to the various owners. Of the 225 milk dealers using this exchange, only a few of the larger ones have a sterilizing plant. In consequence these filthy bottles, recovered from public dumps, after one or two more or less careful washings, are refilled with milk and distributed to the public.

The use of such bottles should be prohibited unless thoroughly cleaned and sterilized.

Investigation of Cases
Another difficulty in suppressing typhoid fever is that outside of some cities and a few of the larger towns there is little or no investigation of cases, no attempt to discover the source of infection and no record regarding previous cases beyond the list of cases reported, which might be used for studying the situation.

BABY SHOT BY PLAYMATE
Bullet Grazed Top of Head—Will Recover

BOSTON, April 22.—Rosie Ferris, 4 years, narrowly escaped instant death yesterday when a bullet, accidentally fired from a revolver in the hands of Antonio Furro, 14, of 110 Decatur street, Arlington, grazed the top of her head and inflicted a severe scalp wound. Young Furro, when he saw the child lying unconscious and bleeding on the floor of a room in his house, where the shooting took place, ran away. Late last night the boy had not been found, although his parents and the police had made search for him.

According to the children who were in the room, young Furro had been playing with them before the accident. In rummaging about the room he found a revolver in a bureau drawer and kept playing with it.

Suddenly the weapon spurted fire and they saw their little playmate drop to the floor. The frightened children ran to the street and told the child's mother, Mrs. Rocco Ferris of 109 Decatur street.

The child was revived and taken to her home, and it is believed that unless complications develop she will recover.

Instant Relief for Sore Feet

Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time by TIZ.

Sent at Once for Free Trial Package

Policemen all over the world use TIZ. Policemen stand on their feet all day and know what sore, tender, sweaty, swollen feet really mean. They use TIZ because TIZ cures their feet right up. It keeps feet in perfect condition. Read what this policeman has to say: "I was surprised and delighted with TIZ for tender feet. I hardly know how to thank you enough for it. It's superior to powders or plasters. I can keep my feet in perfect condition. Believe in my earnest gratitude for TIZ. I am a policeman and keep on my feet all day."—Eugene Harrell, Austin, Texas.

You never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold. TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and in the only remedy that does TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you allow your feet to be swayed in favor of taking a substitute for TIZ, you'll have to answer to your feet. For there is nothing else will ensure your feet being well. TIZ is for sale at all drug stores, department and general stores at 25 cents a box. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. PRES. WILSON MAKES AN APPEAL

To Governor Johnson of California Not to Enact Any Anti-Alien Land Laws

WASHINGTON, April 22.—President Wilson after a conference with the democratic delegation in congress today decided to telegraph Gov. Johnson and legislative leaders in California appealing to them not to enact any anti-alien land laws in contravention of treaty obligations of the United States with Japan.

The telegram is as follows: "I speak on the assumption which I am sure is well founded that the people of California do not desire their representatives—and that their representatives do not wish to intend—in any circumstances to embarrass the government of the United States in its dealings with a nation with whom it has most earnestly and cordially sought to maintain relations of genuine friendship and goodwill and that least of all do they desire to do anything that might impair treaty obligations or cast a doubt upon the honor and good faith of the nation and its government."

"I therefore appeal with the utmost confidence to the people, the governor, and the ex-governor of California, to act in the matter now under consideration in a manner that cannot from any point of view be fairly challenged or called in question. If they deem it necessary to exclude all aliens who have not declared their intentions to become citizens from the privileges of land ownership they can do so along lines already followed in the laws of many of the other states and of many foreign countries, including Japan herself. Insidious discrimination will inevitably draw in question the treaty obligations of the government of the United States. I register my very earnest and respectful protest against any discrimination in this case not only because I deem it my duty to do so as the chief executive of the nation but also, and the more readily, because I believe the people and the executive authorities will generously respond to the moment the matter is frankly presented to them as a question of national policy and of national honor. If they have ignored this point of view it is I am sure, because they did not realize what and how much was involved."

The California democratic congressional delegation, consisting of Reps. Keittner, Baker and Charles called on the president about appointments today but Mr. Wilson deferred that subject and immediately took up the alien land situation. He told his visitors that he had no desire to be anywhere encroaching on the sovereign rights of California to legislate as she pleased but that he felt it was his duty to call the attention of the leaders in the state to the international question involved.

DEATHS

FUNERALS

MANSFIELD—The funeral of Malthe Mansfield, a former resident of Lowell, took place yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the home of Patrick Fitzgerald, Holyoke, and was largely attended. A high funeral mass was sung at St. Jerome's church by Rev. Fr. Broderick. The bearers were John Mansfield, Michael Moriarty, Timothy Moriarty and Henry Fitzgerald. The body was brought to this city for burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Dr. A. Hurley of Holyoke. Burial was under the direction of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

FERREIRA—The funeral of John Ferreira took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, Alvaro and Maria Ferreira, 68 Tyler street. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons in charge.

McGRATH—There was a very large attendance at the funeral of Master John Joseph McGrath, the sorrow for the deceased and the sympathy for the bereaved parents being manifested on every hand and particularly by the large attendance at the church, the funeral cortege and the beautiful array of floral tributes so tenderly expressing the love of playmates, teachers and friends for the deceased boy.

The cortege left the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath, 70 Pleasant street, at 8:30 and at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Owen McQuaid, O. M. I., the usual music being rendered by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Walker.

The bearers were playmates or close friends of the deceased, namely, John Connors, Walter Connors, Joseph Burns, William Burns, James Burns, Eugene Dooley, James Shanley and Edward Shanley.

The interment was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery. The committee service was conducted by Rev. Fr. McQuaid, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I. Undertaker McQuaid had charge of the funeral.

There was a great array of beautiful floral tributes, including a large pillow inscribed "Our Johnnie," from the parents; standing cross inscribed "Nephew," from Frank McGrath; pillow also inscribed "Nephew," from Mr. and Mrs. John McLeer; standing cross, "Good-bye, John," from Mary O'Hare, god-mother of deceased; pillow, "Our Cousin," Edward and Vincent Smith, employees of the Lowell Printing company; large basket of pink and roses from the fourth grades of the Moody school; spray of roses and pinks from Miss Crowley and Miss Emerson of the Moody street school; house, inscribed "Godchild," from Daniel Cosgrove; spray of sweet peas, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Lawler. Among others who sent floral tributes were: Miss Bridget McNulty, Allen family, Francis Vincent McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Roy, Mary and Joseph Goshlan, McQuaid street school, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah McGlinchey and family, Miss Kowen, John Connor, Francis Blattery, Walter Connor, Alton Brine, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dooley and family, the McDevitts, Jas. and Joseph Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Sheahan, Gladys, Ada and Walter Mooney, Mrs. Anna Burns, Mrs. Mary and Mr. Sidney Willmott, Mr. Michael McGlinchey and family, Master Ned Lee, Mr. Michael E. Bourke, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McQuaid, Miss Anna and Phillip McCarron, Mrs. Donnelly and family, Mr. and Mrs. James J. McManmon, and others.

ORDERED OUT OF TOWN

Head of Cananes Copper Co. Chased

DOUGLAS, Ariz., April 22.—J. J. S. Douglas of the Cananes Consolidated Copper Co., who was ordered by a mob yesterday to leave Cananea, arrived here late last night and related his experiences. "Trouble had been brewing for a week, he said, owing to the company shutting down more than half of its works because of lack of fuel. Many of the 2000 men thrown out of employment had been given odd jobs and supplies, but that did not appease the majority. Early yesterday, he continued, a crowd of 2500 persons surrounded his office and sent a delegation of four accompanied by Col. Alvarado of the state troops and Prefect Durazo to him with four demands.

"They declared I must immediately appoint a successor as general manager of the company," he said, "that I must leave Cananea at once, as under article 33 of the Mexican constitution I had been adjudged by the people a pernicious character, that Senor Pasquira would arrive Tuesday with the demand that the mines be reopened and all idle men put to work, and that if the company did not immediately operate the mines they would see that another company did."

Douglas said that Col. Alvarado had only 200 soldiers there and was unable to control the situation. "He advised me to leave, as did officials of the company, so I closed up my business as well as I could and left a few hours later. I don't know what the company will do."

DROWNING OF YOUTH

John Collins Held as Witness

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 22.—John Collins was held today as a witness in connection with the alleged drowning in the Winooski river at Bolton of a negro youth who had been accused of stealing the dinner pails of three railroad section hands. Collins is the fifth man taken into custody. John Keen-ton, who told the police, according to the latter that the boy's death was due to a ducking which he received during an effort to make him confess, was released on his own recognition today.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KEEP CLEAN WITH CARBONOL

SOMETIMES soap-and-water cleanliness is enough. Sometimes aseptic cleanliness is absolutely necessary, and in such cases you should mix Carbonol in the water used in cleaning. A dash of Carbonol in a pail of water gives the whole mixture powerful disinfecting qualities. Garbage cans and all repositories of refuse should be cleaned with it to kill the germs, to keep away flies and to suppress odors. Carbonol is equally useful in general cleaning. Put it in the water when you mop the floors or wash the woodwork. Use it especially in cleaning the sickroom where there has been contagious disease. Sprinkle it in the cellar before sweeping and the musty smell will disappear. A sample bottle with booklet will be sent free on request.

AUGUSTA PERRY STOCK CO.
"THE GIRL AND THE PARSON" PICTURES AND VAUDEVILLE

STRING OF GOLD BEADS LOST Monday night, April 21, between Merrimack Square theatre and court house, by way of Prescott, Central and Gorham sts. Finder please return to 655 Gorham st.

Academy of Music
Augusta Perry and her popular stock company started their third week at the Academy yesterday. The play selected for the first two days is "The Girl and the Parson," and the Perry company certainly knows how to produce it. Miss Perry takes the part of Amy, "the Girl," an entirely different role from any she has appeared in during the preceding weeks here. The change simply shows what Miss Perry really can do, for she is just as natural in the role as she has been in the others. The plot is well selected to suit the theatre-goers, being bright with wit and comedy and dramatic situations. Walter Downing as the parson, plays his part in a capable manner. The supporting company was good. "The Girl and the Parson" will be repeated today, and "Camille" will be the offering for Wednesday and Thursday, matinee and evening. Popular prices. Daily matinees, 10c; evenings, 10c, 20c, 25c.

SIX NEW HORSES
Purchased For the Health Department at a Total Cost of Over $1700
The health department, through the purchasing agent's office, has purchased six new horses: two from Charles H. Clapp & Co., two from the Thomas Vaughn estate, and two from Charles H. Hanson & Co. The total amount paid was $1725. This is somewhat less than $300 for each horse and it was stated today that the market price is a little over the $300 mark. One of the corporations in this city paid $900 for a pair of horses within the last two weeks and within a similar period the Harvard brewery paid upward of $850.

BOY OF 19 HURLED INTO RIVER

Negro Youth Drowned by Four Men Who Sought to Make Him Admit Theft

BOLTON, Vt., April 29.—A negro youth of about 19 years, who wandered into town last Saturday, was hurled into the Winooski river, where he was drowned, it is charged, by four men, three of whom had accused him of stealing their dinner pail.

Three of the men, Henry McCabe, James Sweeney and John Kennison, all of this town, were arrested Sunday pails. They noticed the boy and thought of him again when at noon their dinner pails were missing.

In another moment they were running down the track in the direction that the lad had taken. After a chase of a mile they saw him entering the village. He saw them too and broke into a run, but the men were faster and they caught him as he stumbled up the steps leading to the house of A. C. Huntley.

his tracks and locked up in a laborer's shanty. He was told that he would be given until 3 o'clock that afternoon to confess that he had stolen his captors'

"Snap the Whip"

The three hours' confinement only served to strengthen the prison's purpose, and when the door of the shanty was again opened he denied more positively than before that he had fed at the expense of the colored men.

Meantime Goodrich had joined the party and going to the river bank the men formed a chain by joining hands with McCabe on one end and Sweeney, Kennison, Goodrich and the boy in the other named. At a word from the leader they dashed down the bank. When the first three men stopped suddenly in the school yard, and his hold being broken, the negro of the "whip" "snapped" out over the water and disappeared in a whirlpool.

Kennison kept the affair on his mind until night, when he sought out Mr. Huntley and made a clean breast of it. Mr. Huntley communicated with the State's Attorney Deputy Sheriff Murphy came here from Essex Junction to make the arrests. State's Attorney Hopkins of Chittenden county was not in Burlington yesterday, but will be there today.

care of their property, but conditions have changed since, and now as you

"Every Tuesday morning we, the real estate owners, put men on the job to clean the yards and alleys and in this manner of cooperating with tenants, the city is kept very clean. If a tenant in my property is caught throwing rubbish outside or in cellars, he is at once notified that if the act is repeated he will be forced to vacate. Many other landlords have adopted this plan and it is the best way to keep our tenements in a good sanitary condition."

Alken, Cheever, Hall, Perkins, Tucker, Ward and Coolidge streets were all cleaned by street departments and are as clean as can be expected. Ward street, however, there is a building which is in a very bad condition. It is a three-story wooden building, on rainy days as a shelter. The windows and doors have all been taken out and the plaster on the walls is all torn down. The cellar contains con-

A fact noticeable is the clean condition of the yard extending between Alkern and Tucker streets, between what are known as the double and single blocks, which contain, the former 48 families, and the latter 27.

There are probably over 200 children in this same yard, but nevertheless the place is so well treated and reflects much credit on the families occupying these two buildings.

THE TARIFF BATTLE

Now that the democratic caucus of the house has concluded its investigations without changing or amending any material point of the new tariff bill, the real battle is about to begin in its discussion in the house. These students of the situation, of all shades of political belief, foretell its speedy passage. Even in the senate it is expected that the measure will be passed in practically its present form. During the caucus of two weeks of tariff debate, the Underwood program, shaped by the president, prevailed by an overwhelming majority, and the unanimity with which the democratic party in the senate and house desires its adoption is one of the surest signs of its success.

Without doubt one of the strongest causes of the present security of the tariff bill and its confident outlook has been the personality of the president and the prestige of his administration. Had he showed any signs of weakening at any of the initial stages, or had he demonstrated that he was actuated by any but the most sincere motives, his action would have been followed by a spirit of uneasiness in his party, but his steadfast and constant perseverance in following the plans as outlined at first did much to dispel the notion, fostered by some antagonistic interests, that the tariff reduction was unscientific and haphazard.

As the tariff battle now stands the Underwood bill has the almost positive assurance of the full democratic majority of the house and senate. Some of the progressive element of the republican party will probably support it in part, if not wholly. Although it must go through the routine processes of discussion, debate and argument, its passage without material change is already assured. Even the wool and sugar schedules which are among those most bitterly attacked, promise to become law without being radically changed from their present form.

Tariff revision now being at our doors, it remains for the business interests of the country to abandon their wails of discontent and empty prophecies of impending disaster and to prepare for the new conditions. Before it can be justly condemned, it must be fairly proved defective. Tariff revision is the strongly expressed wish of the people. It was the clearly defined issue in all the great recent political contests and it was strongly approved by the people of the entire country.

Should the proposed changes injure any industry or fail to reduce the cost of living there will be widespread disappointment but all the changes are more or less experimental and nobody can foretell correctly just what the result will be.

CLEAN YOUR WINDOWS

The cleaning of windows is one of the very essential phases of "spotless town" activity. It is gratifying, therefore, to find that one of the largest mills of the city whose walls rise from the public street, has started out to give good example by cleaning up its scores of windows which have been eyesores for months because of their dusty condition. The rains and snows of winter, and the whirling dust storms of spring have left their traces on the clouded glass, and a general window cleaning campaign in the city would result in its looking brighter and more presentable.

In the better sections of Boston and other large cities a stranger is immediately impressed by the cleanliness of the windows of the stores and buildings. The same holds particularly true of Portland, Me., where a better spirit than we have must prevail among the citizens, in this respect at least, as one notices among his first impressions the shining windows of the store fronts and other public buildings. Because of this as well as its shaded streets it deserves the description of Longfellow as "that beautiful town that is seated by the sea."

Clean windows in the buildings that line our streets are not only attractive and conducive to the good appearance of the city, but they are also an aid to success in business. With the additional attraction of well arranged merchandise they serve as a refreshing advertisement to the hundreds who walk the streets daily and survey the goods exposed to view. The same holds true of offices. One eye is immediately attracted to these windows that reflect the light and show signs of neatness and prosperity. What can be thought of a storekeeper, and there are many such, whose windows are so dirty as to exclude a view from the street even at night when the store is lighted?

It is to be hoped that a general campaign of window cleaning will be one of the features of clean up week. Get ready your cloths and set to work with a will to shine up the glass which is now streaked with the gray haze of rain and dust. The sunshine which will stream in the views of the landscape trees, the blue sky, the signs of spring activity, will recompense you for your labor and you will have the gratification of having aided in the pleasant task of making of Lowell a more beautiful and a more wholesome city.

HOUSEBREAKING

Thanks to our capable police department and the enviable reputation the city has made in the ready detection and apprehension of thieves, Lowell has been comparatively free of late from the public terror and unrest that follows the visits of the housebreaker. Some individual instances have indeed been recorded, but nothing so serious as that which has just taken place in Attleboro where defenceless people in houses widely different of location were slain down unflinchingly on the same night by a daring midnight intruder.

It will not do, however, for our people to be over-confident. Instances such as this ought to convince us of the great care we should take in the safeguarding of our homes and property. The man who forces a lock or breaks a window in the dead of night to enter your house, is prepared to commit murder in most instances if his designs are thwarted. Recognizing this fact, agencies have set to work in the past to increase the penalty for housebreaking. Some prominent police officials of the state declare themselves in favor of making the offence punishable by death, but that would be excessive except where murder has been actually committed.

In the middle ages those who possessed lands or wealth lived in castles which were surrounded by battlemented walls, towers, moats, and drawbridges to protect them from foes from without. It is still said that "a man's home is his castle," and the midnight thief who invades the sanctity of that home does so deliberately, fully realizing that a man will defend his home with his life, and fully prepared to take the consequences. There is little sympathy for the robber who loses his life or who is permanently injured while trying to rob the home of any citizen, but all are aroused to feelings of sympathy by the affliction of those whose homes are turned into houses of mourning by the dangerous midnight housebreaker.

THE PADRONE SYSTEM

The fining of seven employees of the American tube works of Somerville yesterday for the offence of taking money from persons seeking employment, is a prompt and firm compliance with the new state laws which make it punishable legally. The ready compliance with the terms of the new law is generally commendable as it strikes at the roots of a most pernicious and regrettable abuse.

This taking of money is a form of the padrone system which is unfair to the man who is employed under it, who thus becomes the victim of extortion, unfair to the principles of labor in general, unfair to the employer where best interests are thus held to be of secondary consideration, and unfair to the character of American justice. It is a system, the danger of which has been shown in many recent strikes, as the victim of the padrone system has been fairly started by its means in the belief that America is governed by right rather than might. Today it is padrone, tomorrow it is sabotage.

Wherever there are violations of the new law which strives to eliminate the evil, the recent example of the Somerville authorities might well be followed. The padrone system is not indigenous to America and should not be permitted to thrive here. Such a foul weed is not worthy to grow on our soil and it must be rooted up by the spade of prompt punishment as in the Somerville case.

BRITISH TORIES DESPERATE

It looks as if the British suffragettes are being backed by the Tories in an effort to overthrow the ministry. The Tories have tried every scheme imaginable to overthrow the ministry; first, open battle, which failed; second, the sectional cry of the Orangemen in the north of Ireland, which also failed; and third, the Marconi allegations against Lloyd George, which when exposed fell flat. Now it would appear that in their desperation the Tories, or a section of them, have secretly joined hands with the suffragettes in a campaign in which the torch and the bomb are freely used. But these weapons are not more revolutionary than the threatened rebellion in the north of Ireland where Mr. Carson and a few other swashbucklers are getting ready to resist the power of the government to the crown.

The Tories have about everything that a party could wish with the exception of a suitable policy, a level-headed leader and a united party with a working majority. When they deposed Lord Balfour as leader and took up Bonar Law they merely substituted a firebrand for a well trained, well balanced, astute leader and the only man in the party who could at all cope with the triumvirate made up of Premier Asquith, John E. Redmond and Lloyd George, three of the ablest parliamentary leaders in all Europe.

It does seem that in spite of every device treacherous, treasonable and otherwise, resorted to by the Tories, the present ministry will remain in power until it places the home rule bill upon the statute books.

FOSS AND WALSH

Now that Governor Foss has declared in favor of Hon. David I. Walsh as the next candidate for governor on the democratic ticket, there is no use in discussing whether His Excellency will again be a candidate. Nobody expects he will play the Roosevelt game of going back on his specific promise.

This is about the worst time that could possibly be selected for any craft to seek an increase of pay in woolen or cotton mills. Very few mills will want to make decisions affecting the future of their business until the tariff schedules shall have been settled. That is only what might be expected and it will be useless to try to force them to take a leap in the dark.

Judging from the irregular weather we have been getting from Mr. Moore of the meteorological bureau at Washington his removal is no surprise.

A FOREIGN TOUR

At W. W. C. A. Wednesday Night Will Be Interesting Event—Liverpool Club in Charge

What will probably be one of the most interesting entertainments held at the W. W. C. A. for some time will be given on Wednesday evening under the title of "A Foreign Tour." The entertainment will be held under the auspices of the Liverpool Club, who conduct a summer camp on the Concord river, and eight countries will be represented. The travelers will start from America and after getting on the "Liverpool," an imaginary boat, they will visit the foreign countries. On board will be bootblacks, newsboy, quartet, suffragettes and other characters that are usually found on a ship. Gray's orchestra will furnish music.

The countries to be represented and those in charge are: America, Miss Verona DeGori; France, Miss Rose Cournoyer; Ireland, Miss Harriet Garvin; Spain, Miss Bessie Carroll; Holland, Miss Eva Armstrong; China, Miss Ida Woodies and Scotland, Miss Thora Johnson. Each country will be represented by a booth and dainties from the parts represented will be on sale.

The consensus of opinion of those present that the musical song revue, which will be presented by the Bachelor Girls next Thursday evening in Associate Hall, is the most brilliant affair conducted by the troupe. The added features to this entertainment will be the novelty "Summer Girls," nine in number. This will be the first feature that will present itself to the audience, and four of the young ladies dressed as boys will do a novel dance with their partners, four in number, assisted by a soloist.

The second feature will be that of the Scotch lassies dressed in neat fitting kilts doing the native dances of Scotland, and will also be assisted by a soloist.

The third added feature on the program will be the Irish Lads and their Colleen doing the famous breakdown and other dances dear to old Ireland.

shown by the many accolades called for by the many spectators at both performances. This is the last week of the Temple Players in this city, for some time at least, and it is certain that the many who have seen the play will then a last visit before they complete their engagement.

Another interesting piece is the one-act dramatic playlet, "A Man's Honor," produced by Miss Grace Young and her two assistants, Messrs. Howard and Weeks. The sketch deals with a young man who is about to elope with the wife of his old friend, but who at the last moment abandons all plans on account of his honor being at stake. The piece is cleverly played and well worth seeing. Miss Young, as usual, appears in one of her rich gowns, while her playing is superb.

If you want to enjoy a few minutes of real fun do not fail to hear Jack Carroll, booked as "The Fashion Plate Monologist," for he supplies his listeners with a variety of witty sayings which proves even better than advertised. His stories are good and his singing is about the average of two other comedians, excel in a piece entitled "Fifteen Minutes of Frivolity." They are real humorists and with them it is a case of laugh from curtain rise to curtain fall.

George Davis sings the latest illustrated songs and the photo-plays for the next three days are the very rare selections from the best manufacturers of the country. "The Land Swindlers," a three-reel picture, and the only one of its kind in which William J. Burris, the noted detective, appears and takes an active part, is the biggest feature in the picture line. The story deals with supposed jewel thieves and shows to good effect the workings and the worth of the now famous little instrument, the dictagraph. The other pictures are equally good.

Young Stone's win over Johnny Boyle Saturday night met him all the fighting that he can take care of for the next few months. Taking everything into consideration Boyle is a clever boy and the future who outpoints him has to travel all the time. Boyle showed gameness in sticking it out with his eye in the condition that it was after the fourth round.

The third base position is still up in the air. Both Starr and Holt played well in the opening games. Starr's eye is all right but Holt has got the ideal build for a ball player. If Starr can show that he is Holt's superior or even his equal with the stick, he will certainly land the job, for his holding is all that can be asked for.

Andy Sokolakis, the Oldtown runner who finished second in the Marathon Saturday, is considering the advisability of entering the professional ranks. From all accounts this will be a great opportunity for the "pro" distance men.

Billy Quail will shortly sail for England where he will participate in several ten-mile grinds. There is money in the game if you are good enough to go and get it.

According to no less authority than Captain Mathewson, Ty Cobb is up against the American league as well as President Navin of the Detroit club. His chances of winning his fight for the $5,000 contract look worse than ever if this is a fact. Cobb has been on the blacklist of the organized baseball since his little punching bee with a spectator in the grandstand at New York last summer and it looks as though he was up against it this time.

Today's game with St. Anselm should prove a good one. The New Hampshire college has a fast team this year which has not been beaten this season. Manager Gray has not announced his lineup as yet, but it is probable that Weaver will be used on the mound.

Carlson, the Swede who won the B. A. A. Marathon Saturday, cannot read or write the English language and his conversation in our tongue is limited to a few words. However, he can run and that is the main requirement for the grind.

English high of Boston will be represented at the monster athletic carnival that the University of Pennsylvania gives Saturday in Philadelphia. The Boston team won the relay race for high schools last year against the pick of the country and is looked to repeat this year. The Lowell high relay team put a crimp in this quarter last winter on the indoor track.

The Massachusetts Police Baseball league held its final meeting last week and preparations are now complete for the coming season. The league will begin its schedule of games on May 6th and continue until the 26th of September.

Much interest has been manifested in the success of the league by prominent men all over the state and it is fully expected that a successful season this year will mean that the Police Baseball league will hold a permanent place in athletic circles.

The league this year will be comprised of the following teams: Cambridge, Somerville, Chelsea, Everett, Lowell, Metropolitan Park, Newton, Quincy and Revere. The league headquarters are situated at Chelsea. At the conclusion of the season valuable

Standing and Individual Averages Dropped Another Game to Athletics

The untimely errors of Wagner and Terkes lost the game for the Red Sox yesterday. The Athletics played a steady game throughout and deserved their 6 to 4 victory. Joe Wood became wild in the second and was replaced by Bedient. Foster finished the game for Boston while Plank was called from the bench to pitch the last putout of the game when the Red Sox managed to get two men on in the ninth. Plank easily disposed of Captain Wagner, Murphy, Oldring and Lewis contributed the batting features. The score by innings:

COBB GETS HELP FROM CONGRESS. MAN IN FIGHT WITH ORGANIZED BALL

TY COBB

WASHINGTON, April 22—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the leading citizen of the south from April to October, according to the best belief of several millions of fans, is about to become a national issue. The recent exhibition of stubbornness on the part of the "Georgia Peach" with regard to affixing his signature to a Detroit contract and the fact that under the rules of organized baseball Tyrus will have either to accept the meager salary of $12,500 for six months' work—all that an associate justice of the United States supreme court gets for twelve months' labor—or take up some other vocation has stirred the soul of Representative Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia. Ty is a constituent of Hard-

CO. G WON FROM CO. C

In Interesting Series of Games Last Night

Company G came into its own last night when it met Company C in the weekly athletic tournament that has been going on all winter. These two teams stand in the first two places in the league and last night's contests proved the most interesting and exciting that have been staged at the armory this year.

Company G won out in the shooting, a big surprise to everybody. It has been commonly conceded that the C team was unbeatable in this event, but they went down to defeat last night by a 10 point margin. The same thing, only in reverse order, happened in the basketball game. Company G has boasted a team this season which has put up a gilt edge exhibition of basket shooting and which was supposed to be far superior to any team at the armory. The C quintet gave them a good beating last night, however, winning the game by the score of 30 to 18.

Company G also showed that her five bowlers were better than the C team by taking two of the three strings rolled and the totals by the score of 1267 to 1263. The conclusion of the bowling match brought forth great excitement as there were only four pins separating the two teams. The score and summary of the games:

Lowell Man Training for Bout With Loughrey

Though two excellent programs of boxing were offered at the Lowell A. C. last night, the attendance of members at both meetings was very small, but despite this fact the management has decided to hold another meeting this week, and if the members patronize the session the club will continue. On the other hand, if the attendance is small, the meetings may be called off until next season. The sporting fraternity is here given an opportunity to keep the game on, to use the vernacular "can" it. For the meeting Friday night, Joe Thomas of this city will meet Young Loughrey of Philadelphia in the main bout of twelve rounds. Both are good men in their class and their exhibition should prove a very interesting one. Loughrey is going along fast and many are of the opinion that he will defeat the Lowell boy. Joe, however, feels confident that he will come out on the long end. The Lowell boxer is training for the bout at Pawtucket, R. I. and another man who will appear here this week, namely Bill Collins of Pawtucket, R. I. is in the training camp with Thomas. Collins will meet Terry O'Rourke of Lawrence in the semi-final and this too ought to be a great bout. Young Halghey of Lowell, who last week won from Young Duffrey of this city in one of the preliminaries will appear in one of the six round bouts on Friday night. He will tackle Jimmie Ryan, who is reputed to be a fast boy. Young Brennan of the City of Spindus will meet Kid Pappas, also of this city in the curtain raiser. The latter is a resident of the Greek colony and his many friends are elated over the fact that he will appear at this week's meeting. The session as usual will be held in Mathew hall and the first bout will start at 8.15.

BRAVES LOST TO GIANTS

Tyler Was Opposed by Marquard

The Boston Braves met another reverse yesterday at the hands of the New York Giants. Although Tyler outpitched Rube Marquard bunched hits in the first couple with frequent passes proved his undoing and the New Yorkers pulled out the game by the score of 4 to 3. Boston got nine hits as against New York's four. Snodgrass proved the star of the contest stealing two bases and bringing home two runs. Maranville played a great game at short for the Hub team. The score by innings:

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear.

REPEAL OF BAR AND BOTTLE BILL

BOSTON, April 22.—The bill providing for local option in the matter of the Bar and Bottle act of 1910 was defeated in the house yesterday, 120 to 105, one of the largest votes of the year. The size of the vote for the bill was a surprise even to its friends, who will seek reconsideration of its rejection.

This bill, which would practically repeal the Bar and Bottle act, had been favorably reported by the committee on legal affairs and was the first item on the calendar.

Representative Haines of Medford opened debate against the bill, stating that the law operated greatly to reduce the number of arrests by nearly 100 a year. He said all except those who are directly concerned in the liquor business have observed that the law has improved conditions, and contended that there is no demand for its repeal except from those who are connected with the business.

John J. Murphy of Boston, favoring the bill, took exception to a circular sent out by the Anti-Saloon league, in which the Boston Licensing board was quoted as favoring a retention of the present law. He read a report from the board stating that it was convinced that the law has worked to increase the sale of liquor to be consumed in the home. He admitted that the number of arrests for drunkenness had decreased, but denied that the Bar and Bottle law is responsible for the improved condition.

Calls Present Law Foolish

Representative Wood of Gardner said the Bar and Bottle law has helped to regulate the abuse of liquor. If it is a fact, as the liquor dealers claim, that the law has increased the sale of bottled goods, the liquor dealers would be the last to ask for its recall. One of Boston's prominent social workers told the committee, he said, that in many places she had found that the amount of liquor consumed in the home had materially decreased, and he thought the testimony of such a woman should have great weight.

Burdick of Adams favored the bill, because it carries a referendum to the people. Bigelow of Framingham took the opposite view, stating that no member who has a regard for his home will surrender to the people at large his opportunity to protect it by defeating this bill.

Abbott of Haverhill argued that the bill does not repeal the present law unless a majority of the people in each license city and town are opposed to it.

Representative Doyle of New Bedford closed the debate for the bill, stating that he considered it specially appropriate that the opposition to it should come from the historical city of Medford. He characterized the present law as one of the most foolish ever put upon the statute books, and declared that it has done more harm than any other put upon the books for many years.

By a vote of 195 to 120, the house refused to order the bill to a third reading.

The rollcall showed that the Lowell delegation was divided. Messrs. Achin, Jewett, Murphy and Poomey voting yes for the bill, and Messrs. Butler and Craig voting no. Rev. Charles H. Williams of Billerica also voted no.

Teachers' Tenure of Office

Next the house took up the bill to provide a tenure of office for teachers in the public schools. An amendment offered by Representative Wood of Gardner, providing that only five years of service instead of 10, shall be necessary to establish a tenure, was adopted without debate, as was an amendment offered by Representative Lomasney of Boston, providing that in any hearing on charges against a teacher the teacher shall have a voice in determining whether the hearing shall be private or public.

Representative Bliss of Malden offered an amendment providing that the act shall take effect in each city and town upon its acceptance by the voters thereof. To this amendment, Representative Wood offered another, to make it take effect upon its acceptance by the school committee in each city and town.

Representative Heck of Chelsea opposed the Wood amendment, contending that the house might just as well kill the bill as adopt this amendment. His view prevailed and the amendment was rejected on a voice vote, after which the bill was then passed to be engrossed and sent to the senate.

Grade Crossing Bill

Representative Prime of Winchester offered to the bill to relieve towns and cities of any portion of the cost of abolishing grade crossings, unless they petition for such abolition, an amendment to make the bill apply to all future payments under petitions for the abolition of grade crossings pending in court at the time when the act takes effect. He said his town had had a petition pending in the courts for eight years, and he thought it unfair that such a town should be required to pay 10 per cent. of the cost while some other town where the crossings are abolished shortly after the act takes effect will be relieved.

Representative Barnes of Mansfield opposed the amendment as unconstitutional, and Representative Washburn of Worcester objected to it as inequitable. The latter offered an amendment, providing that all cities and towns which have hitherto contributed to the cost of abolishing grade crossings shall be reimbursed for their expenditures.

Mr. Barnes raised a point of order that both amendments were beyond the scope of the petition, the chair ruling that the prime amendment was within the scope of the petition and reserving his decision as to the Washburn amendment. The matter was then postponed until today.

Greenwood Breaks Tie

The state senate yesterday amended the bill relative to industrial controversies. As originally reported this bill provides that five employees of any concern might compel the state board of conciliation and arbitration to investigate and report on any labor controversy.

Amendments were offered by Senator Blanchard of Somerville to provide that the state board need not make any investigation unless the petition for such inquiry was signed by five of every 25 persons employed by the concern involved, and that then it would be in the discretion of the state board to make an investigation and report.

The entire bill was very much involved, but the Blanchard amendments were adopted 17 to 16. Pres. Greenwood casting the deciding vote in favor of them.

WHO OWNS THE BEACH?

Salisbury Lessees Now in a Quandary

BEACH ASSOCIATES CLAIM RESERVATION LAW ILLEGAL

The Decision As To Constitutionality of the Law Pending Before Supreme Court

NEWBURYPORT, April 22.—Hundreds of people who for a decade have composed the summer colony of Salisbury Beach are just now in a quandary as to whom they shall pay for the use of the land on which their cottages are located.

At present there are two distinct bodies claiming the right to collect this revenue—the Salisbury Beach Reservation Commission appointed by the state of Massachusetts and the Salisbury Beach Associates. The latter is an organization claiming a clear title to the entire beach.

Wednesday of this week, is the date set by the reservation commission on which they will take active possession of the property at the beach. Almost simultaneous with the announcement of the commission comes that of the other organization in a communication to all of the cottage owners regarding their rent, which falls due the first week of May. The communication warns them to pay Walter Coulson, treasurer of the Salisbury Beach Associates, or they will lose their rights.

While this activity is being pushed ahead from both sides, the question of who is the real holder of the title is pending in the courts. The commission seized a portion of the beach last year and recently made another seizure, taking all the land from the Merrimack river along the Atlantic coast to the New Hampshire state line, the strip of land is seven miles long and half a mile wide. The associates in the case now before the court claim that the act creating the state reservation is unconstitutional.

Minister Guilty of Non-Support
BOSTON, April 22.—The Rev. Arthur Whitaker, a retired Baptist clergyman and president of the Welfare union, was found guilty of non-support by Judge Luce in the Waltham court yesterday and ordered to pay his wife $14 this week and $7 a week in the future.

MISSION AT ST. PETER'S

Very Strong Sermon on Mortal Sin

"Mortal Sin" was the subject of the sermon at the mission for single men at St. Peter's church last night by Rev. Fr. Guanning, following the preliminary instructions and recitation of the rosary at which Rev. Fr. O'Leary officiated. The sermon was the second in the course followed by the Redemptorist missionaries, the first being on the importance of the soul's salvation. Last evening mortal sin was discussed in a most eloquent and thoughtful discourse, as the hindrance to salvation and the disease which causes the failure of the soul to attain God, its last end.

The preacher emphasized the horror of mortal sin and illustrated his words with stories and examples. The soul in mortal sin, he said, is very near to damnation and all that is needed to send it to everlasting torment is hell away from the sight of God is a sudden death. When one stops and takes time to consider the unspeakable danger of being in a state of mortal sin and at the same time considers the absolute certainty of death together with the dread uncertainty as to the time, place and manner of death, truly he would realize the importance of being in a state of grace throughout one's whole life. Such is the awfulness of mortal sin and God's hatred of it. Knowing this, man should make use of the means afforded by the church for keeping his soul free from the contamination of the devil and thus eliminate the danger of losing God and happiness with Him in heaven.

As the greatest example of the attitude of God toward mortal sin, the preacher pictured the death of Christ, the saviour of mankind, upon the cross, crucified by the sins of the world. Every time we commit mortal sin we virtually crucify God, murder Him, as did the Jews centuries ago. There was a very large congregation at the services last evening. The preliminary instructions were a description of the significance of the rosary and the prayers which accompany its recitation. The priest explained the sorrowful, joyful and glorious mysteries, the origin of the prayers and the importance of the rosary, which embodies all the mysteries of man's redemption. Rev. Fr. O'Leary announced that this evening the most important sermon of the entire week will be preached and urged every man to be present and seated at half-past seven, and according to the words of Rev. Fr. O'Leary, it is one which the men cannot afford to miss. The mission masses at 8 and 8 o'clock are very largely attended and the Redemptorist Fathers at St. Peter's express themselves as highly pleased with the spirit shown by the men.

Mrs. Mary M. G. Monroe celebrated her 80th birthday at her home at Chelmsford Centre last Saturday, and the occasion will long be remembered by those who attended.

Relatives and friends gathered at her home throughout the day and Mrs. Monroe was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among them being a three birthday cake with initials M. G. M. and dates 1833 to 1913, and a mission bookcase.

Among those present who were nearest and dearest were: Two daughters, Mrs. D. W. Seaver of West Tewksbury and Miss Daisy Sirena Monroe of Boston. A daughter of Mrs. Seaver, Mrs. Alfred Dixon of Lowell, who was present with her own little daughter, Cora May, aged three and one-half years, completed four generations.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The Matthew Temperance Institute has appointed a committee of ten to make arrangements for an "Old Time Members' Night" which will be held in the near future. The M. T. Bachelors are zealously preparing their musical song revue which bids fair to be one of the best ever. Miss Blanche Perrin is training them in the dances and the musical director is Mr. William Gilmore.

Street Car Men's Auxiliary

Last night the wives and daughters of the street car men met and formed an auxiliary to the organization and elected the following temporary officers: Mrs. W. H. Sprague, president; Mrs. Edward Welch, secretary and Mrs. Thomas Murphy, treasurer. A committee composed of Mrs. Patrick Lowe, Mrs. Clarence Allen, Mrs. Thomas McOsker, Mrs. W. A. Sargent and Mrs. Inez Jones was elected to draw up by-laws to govern the auxiliary. The meeting adjourned to meet next Monday night and all wives of carmen are invited to attend.

President Crowley, Edward Welch and W. H. Sprague were present to assist in the organization of the auxiliary.

Sons of Veterans

The membership of Camp Farragut, Sons of Veterans exceeded the 100 mark when a number of new names were added to the list at the last regular meeting of the organization. Commander Earl Thissell of Post 42 was a visitor to the camp during the session and he addressed the members, dwelling upon the importance of the organization to keep up the good work of the G. A. R., the ranks of which are thinning rapidly.

For the closing the camp and comrades of the several posts of the city were entertained by the commissary department and speeches followed. Addresses were made by Commander Thissell of Post 42, Commander Derby of Camp 75 and Past Commander Drane, who was the first commander and has been a member for 33 years. Then Past Commander S. A. Pickering read a carefully prepared paper on the history of the order in Lowell. On Tuesday the brothers of this camp will unite with the daughters of Veterans in a celebration, the Mary E. Smith Tent having invited some to be their guests on that occasion.

Court Merrimack, F. of A.

The entertainment committee of Court Merrimack, Foresters of America, met last night and completed the final arrangements for the smoke talk which is to be held this evening after the meeting in Grafton hall. Lecturer John T. Hendricks will officiate as the master of ceremonies and addresses will be delivered by several of the past chief rangars of the court. There will be a program of music by prominent local talent and refreshments will be served. The committee in charge comprises the officers of the court.

Molly Varnum Chapter

Molly Varnum Chapter, B. A. R. observed Patriots day with a meeting and entertainment at the Spaulding house. There were several interesting addresses and a pleasing program of musical selections and recitations. The affair closed with the singing of patriotic hymns.

 Part of Reorganization Plan of the Democratic State Committee—Outing at Canobie

The formation of a state central club by the democratic state committee is one of the phases of reorganization work which will be discussed at a meeting of the state committee called by Chairman Thomas P. Riley for Thursday at the Boston city club.

Comprehensive plans for a statewide organization include the increasing of membership in the local city and town organizations by the establishment of Wilson clubs under a uniform charter, a thorough organization of the democratic members of the legislature, and the establishment of a central speakers' bureau.

A monster outing, similar to that at Canobie lake last July, will be arranged for this summer, and it is confidently expected that President Wilson will be the guest of honor.

 Boston Patient Shows Marked Improvement

BOSTON, April 22.—Samuel Taier of 15 Browning avenue, Dorchester, the first Boston man to be inoculated with the turtle culture of Dr. Friedrich Fraus Friedmann at his Providence clinics declared yesterday that he had improved 100 per cent since the treatment and is now certain he will entirely recover from the dreaded great white plague.

Never Felt Better

"The turtle is working gloriously," said Mr. Taier with great enthusiasm. "During the past eight days I have never felt better in my life. I feel alive. The pain at the top of my left lung, which I constantly suffered from, has entirely stopped. So have my night sweats. It makes me pretty sure to hear of these physicians all over the country doubting Dr. Friedmann."

"The fact that my pain has stopped and that I am feeling fine is one whole lot better to me than the opinion of 10,000 physicians."

IMPORTANT CASE

Alleged Adulteration of Dye Stuffs Involved—Lowell Mill Men Present at the Trial

Lowell mills are concerned and Lowell men are interested in a suit which was tried in Philadelphia, where a hosiery company was upheld by a jury in refusing to pay the plaintiff, a dye importing company, for a balance due on purchases of dye stuffs.

Lowell men were present at the trial, some of them having been subpoenaed and others attending out of curiosity. The plaintiff filed a motion to the court for a new trial.

Despite the fact that the suit involved but a small amount of money it is very important inasmuch as it may be followed by a number of other suits of greater magnitude.

A Lowell mill man has stated that practically every mill in New England would hear directly upon their interests.

The Philadelphia suit was that of Max B. Kaeche, trading as F. Bredt & Co., vs. the Standard Hosiery Dyeing and Finishing Works, and was tried before Judge Robert N. Willson in the court of common pleas. Both of the litigants are Philadelphia concerns.

The suit was an action brought by the dye importing house to recover from the hosiery company a balance claimed to be due the plaintiff for dyestuffs sold and furnished to the defendant on a regular account between the
